Anthony Roy is one of seven Division I transfers on this year's Cowboy Basketball roster.

Steve Lutz spent his first year in Stillwater setting a foundation. Now he's ready to build on it. The 2024-25 Cowboys played hard, rebounded and fought defensively – ultimately scratching their way to the NIT quarterfinals -- but often struggled for points. Lutz worked to rectify that over the offseason, targeting proven scorers and playmakers, more tailored to his aggressive, up-tempo style.

OSU reeled in the Big 12's top transfer portal class, per both On3 and HoopsHQ.

The 12 newcomers (seven DI transfers and five freshmen) join a core of three returners, headlined by senior forward Robert Jennings II, who started all 35 games last season.

Sophomore forward Andrija Vukovic looks to take on a larger role in year two, while senior guard Kirk Cole provides veteran leadership and stability.

Kanye Clary, a 6-foot guard who was included on HoopsHQ's preseason top-100 list, averaged nearly 17 points as a Penn State sophomore before an injury-shortened 2024-25 season at Mississippi State.

Likewise, Green Bay transfer Anthony Roy is playing his way back from a foot injury, suffered in early December of last year. Prior to it, he was the nation's leading scorer, averaging 25.7 points and 4.5 threes over the first 11 games.

Roy's presence, coupled with freshman sharp-shooter Ryan Crotty (247 threes in two seasons at the Miller School) should give opposing defenses something to think about on the perimeter.

Guards Jaylen Curry and Vyctorius Miller are two other potential playmakers. Curry averaged 13.3 points and ranked among the top-25 nationally in assist-to-turnover ratio (2.67) last season at UMass, and Miller showed flashes as a true freshman at LSU, averaging 8.9 points.

The two are not related, but 6-5 Isaiah Coleman (team-highs 15.6 ppg, 5.3 rpg, 1.5 spg at Seton Hall) and 6-8 Christian Coleman (11.6 ppg, 7.1 rpg at UAB) are both long, versatile athletes who can contribute in a variety of ways.

OSU added an experienced post presence in 6-10 senior Parsa Fallah (second team All-Pac 12 at Oregon State) to lead a youthful front court that includes Vukovic and high upside freshmen Benjamin Ahmed (Putnam Science Academy) and Mekhi Ragland (Sunrise Christian Academy).

Greek forward Lefteris Mantzoukas and Israeli guard Daniel Guetta aren't your typical freshmen. Both are 22 years old and have extensive international experience.

The 6-9 Mantzoukas is a career 40% three-point shooter who has played parts of eight seasons in the Greek Basketball League, including four with 2024 EuroLeague champion Pananthinaikos.

MEDIA INFORMATION

Thank you for your coverage of the Oklahoma State Cowboys and Big 12 basketball. Please let us know if we can assist your efforts at any time during the season. The following is a list of policies and procedures that are in place for the season. Feel free to contact the OSU athletic communications office with any questions or concerns.

Bryan Holmgren serves as the communications contact for Cowboy Basketball. The Communications office is located in the southwest corner of Gallagher-Iba Arena on the second floor of the Athletics Center in room 220. The primary office number is (405) 744-7714.

OSU MEDIA HUB

To assist with your coverage of OSU Athletics, the OSU Athletic Communications team maintains a Google Drive folder with media resources and other digital assets, including all postgame and weekly press conference footage. Contact Bryan Holmgren for access to this folder.

REQUESTING CREDENTIALS

Credential requests for media should be made by emailing Bryan Holmgren (bryan.holmgren@okstate.edu). For single-game credentials, please make the request at least 48 hours prior to the game you wish to attend along with any specific needs, such as parking, press row seating or baseline photo access.

Credentials (and seating) will be granted on a priority basis:
1. Local print and electronic media which covers OSU events on regular basis.
2. Opponent's media as designated by its media relations director.
3. National media (includes web-based media affiliated with a national outlet).
4. Other radio and television outlets.

Please note, a credential does not guarantee a seat in the press section.

CREDENTIAL PICK-UP

Media who have been granted a credential should report the Southwest Pass Gate (sometimes referred to as the "Memorial Lobby"), located on the south end of the Athletics Center. The entrance will be manned two hours prior to tip-off.

GAME DAY PARKING

New in 2024-25: OSU game day parking passes have gone fully digital . You will no longer have the option to print PDF passes.

Season media now have the option to receive a season parking pass that will automatically renew for each home game.

Those who request single-game parking passes will receive an automated text message (usually the day before the game) with instructions. If you do not already have an OSU Tickets account, you will be asked to register for one when accepting your first transfer.

MEDIA WORK ROOM

The media work room is located in Room 157 on the south end of Heritage Hall inside the OSU Athletics Center. Soft drinks and snacks will be available for working members of the media along with game notes, flip cards and more. Printed box scores are delivered to the media room at halftime and at the end of the game.

TELEPHONE & INTERNET

Wireless Internet is available on press row and inside the media work room. Login instructions, including the latest password, will be posted prior to each game in the media work room. Telephone lines and ethernet ports are also available on a first-come, first-served basis in the media work room.

PHOTOGRAPHERS' ACCESS

Photographers may shoot from the baselines along the floor. One-half of each baseline will be available for photographers (east side, away from benches) with the other half being used by the spirit groups (bench side). Because of space limitations, photographers cannot shoot along either sideline. For highly covered games, photo spots will be assigned to specific media.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

After a brief cooling-off period, selected Oklahoma State players will be brought to the interview area, Room 156 next to the press room, for interviews. Every effort will be made to bring the opposing coach and players to the interview room as well. Coach Lutz and OSU players will meet with the media following the opposing team (if available). A mult-box will be provided for audio, and video will posted afterward on the OSU Media Hub.

OTHER AVAILABILITY

All requests for interviews with OSU men's basketball players and coaches should be made directly through Bryan Holmgren of the athletic communications office and should be made at least 24 hours in advance. No player interviews will be granted on gameday or during practice.

Coach Lutz and select OSU players and assistant coaches will be available to media on a regular basis to preview matchups. These generally fall on Mondays and Thursdays (subject to change based on the game and travel schedules). Contact Bryan Holmgren for the latest details.

PARKING ON CAMPUS (NON-GAME DAYS)

Members of the media who visit the OSU campus regularly for media functions should obtain on-campus vendor parking permits by stopping by Parking Services, located on the northeast corner of the intersection of Monroe Street and Hall of Fame Avenue. If you do not have a campus parking permit, please use the diagonal spots off Matthews (southeast of GIA). Metered stalls are also available in Lot 4 on the north side of the building.

Freshman (2025-26):
- Sharpshooting freshman won a pair of state championships in Virginia and set the state's single-season three-point record (142).
- A consensus four-star recruit ranked No. 80 in the Class of 2025, per 247Sports.

Lutz on Crotty:

"Ryan is a tireless worker who puts team goals ahead of his own. Last year he set Virginia's high school three-point record, but what most impressed me was the way that he did it – within the flow of the offense for a state championship team. He's been well-coached and has a real understanding of spacing and how to get himself open. Combine that with his size and a quick release, and you can see why he's become one of the nation's elite shooters. He's also a wonderful person and student. We're glad he's decided to join us for his next chapter."

High School:
- Made 247 three-pointers in two seasons at The Miller School in Charlottesville, Va., including a state record 142 on 46% accuracy as a junior.

STEVE LUTZ

Head Coach | 2nd Season | Texas Lutheran '95

The 2025-26 season is Steve Lutz's second at the helm of Cowboy Basketball.

A rising star, Lutz worked under Greg McDermott at Creighton and Matt Painter at Purdue -- connections that tie him to both Eddie Sutton and Henry Iba's legendary coaching trees.

The 52-year-old has since launched his own successful head coaching career, becoming the first in NCAA history to guide three different programs to the postseason within his first four years.

In rapid rebuilds at Western Kentucky (2023-24) and Texas A&M Corpus Christi (2021-23), Lutz posted a combined 69-35 record with three NCAA tournament bids and a perfect 8-0 mark in conference tournament play.

Lutz completed another impressive turnaround in his first season in Stillwater, guiding an OSU team that had lost 20 games and nearly its entire roster from the previous year to the quarterfinals of the 2025 National Invitation Tournament.

In addition, the 2024-25 Cowboys:

... added five wins to their previous total.
... jumped 34 spots in the NCAA NET rankings.
... reestablished Gallagher-Iba Arena as one of the toughest places to play in the country, with OSU's best home record in more than a decade (13-4).
... played fast, ranking 12th nationally in tempo.
... played aggressive defense, breaking a 36-year old school record for steals (9.1 per game).
... played unselfishly, leading the Big 12 in both bench scoring (30.6 ppg) and minutes (42%).
... handled business in the classroom, with a 3.51 spring GPA, eight new OSU graduates and the NABC's Academic Team Excellence Award.

A roster featuring 10 newcomers played some of its best ball down the stretch, upsetting ninth-ranked Iowa State in late February before making a push to the NIT quarterfinals with victories over Wichita State and on the road at top-seed SMU.

Arturo Dean became the first Cowboy since Marcus Smart to lead the Big 12 in steals (2.5 per game) and graduate guard Bryce Thompson finished his career with honorable mention all-conference honors.

Lutz was named Oklahoma State's 21st head men's basketball coach on Apr. 1, 2024 and formally introduced three days later.

"Coach Lutz is known as one of the hardest-working coaches in the business," OSU Director of Athletics Chad Weiberg said of the hire. "He has worked at all levels of college basketball and has deep ties to this part of the country, especially Texas. The work he has put into his career has resulted in success as a head coach and why I believe he is the right person to be the leader of Cowboy Basketball."

Including his time as an assistant at Creighton (2010-17) and Purdue (2017-21), Lutz has coached in seven NCAA tournaments, highlighted by Sweet 16 and Elite Eight runs with Boilermakers in 2018 and 2019. He helped Creighton to four trips in seven seasons during a successful transition from the Missouri Valley to the BIG EAST.

Along the way, Lutz had a hand in the development of two national players of the year in Creighton's Doug McDermott (2014) and Purdue's Zach Edey (2023), whom he helped recruit to West Lafeyette prior to his final season.

PLAYING CAREER

1992-95	Texas Lutheran
1991-92	Ranger Junior College

AT WESTERN KENTUCKY:

Lutz's 2023-24 Western Kentucky team played a similar brand of hardnosed, fast-paced basketball. The Hilltoppers led the nation in adjusted tempo (75.1 possession), per KenPom, while topping the Conference USA leaderboard in both points (80.6) and effective field goal percentage (54.6%). WKU finished 22-13 and punched its first NCAA tournament ticket since 2013 after winning their first ever CUSA tournament title.

Leading scorer Don McHenry (15.1 ppg) earned First Team All-CUSA status and conference sixth-man of the year Rodney Howard was one of four other Hilltoppers to earn honorable mention.

A class act, on and off the court, Lutz was also a finalist for the second straight year for the Skip Prosser Man of the Year Award, given to the head coach who achieves success while displaying strong moral character.

AT A&M-CORPUS CHRISTI:

Lutz worked similar magic at Texas A&M-Corpus Christi with back-to-back bids, ending what had been a 15-year March Madness drought and a run of four straight losing seasons.

The Islanders were one of the nation's most-improved teams in 2021-22, jumping from 5-19 to 23-12 with help from a dozen new transfers and an aggressive, opportunistic defense that ranked among the NCAA leaders in steals (8.5) and forced turnovers (14th, 16.5). Lutz was on the shortlist of candidates for the 2022 Joe B. Hall Award (given to the nation's top first-year head coach) after guiding his team to the Southland Conference tournament title as a No. 4 seed.

A&M-Corpus Christi took another step forward in 2022-23, finishing 24-11 (14-4) while pacing the league in both offensive and defensive efficiency. Lutz was a slam dunk choice for conference coach of the year after winning the school's first SLC regular season title since 2007. The Islanders successfully defended their SLC tournament crown, then downed Southeast Missouri State in the First Four for the program's first-ever win at the Big Dance.

Senior point guard Terrion Murdix – the SLC's 2023 Defensive Player of the Year – averaged 15.7 points and led league in assists (5.4), assist-to-turnover ratio (2.47) and steals (2.3). He was joined on the All-SLC first team by 6-5 forward Isaac Mushila (14.5 ppg, league-best 9.9 rpg).

AS AN ASSISTANT COACH:

Lutz was named head coach at A&M-Corpus Christi in April, 2021. Prior to that, he spent 26 years climbing the coaching ladder.

In four seasons in West Lafayette, Ind., Lutz helped Purdue to a 90-42 record, as well as a 53-24 mark in Big Ten play. The Boilermakers made three NCAA tournament appearances in that span (COVID-19 canceled the 2020 event), winning 30 games enroute to the 2018 Sweet 16. A year later they captured a share of the Big Ten regular season title and advanced to the Elite Eight.

Lutz served as Matt Painter's "defensive coordinator" helping the Boilermakers to four consecutive top-35 finishes in KenPom's defensive efficiency rankings, highlighted by an 11th place showing in 2020.

Lutz also spearheaded the recruitment of one of the college basketball's most-dominant big men, 7-foot-4 center Zach Edey, and was instrumental in the development of Purdue's guards, including two-time All-American and Jerry West Award winner, Carsen Edwards, and Jaden Ivy, the No. 5 overall pick in the 2022 NBA Draft.

Prior to Purdue, Lutz helped Creighton make a successful leap from the Missouri Valley Conference to the BIG EAST with six 20-win seasons and five postseason appearances over a seven-year span. The Bluejays won two conference tournaments and one regular season title while compiling a 166-82 record.

Led by 3,000-point scorer and NBA lottery pick Doug McDermott, Creighton posted three consecutive AP top-25 finishes from 2012-14 and won at least one game in three straight NCAA tournaments. The 2014 team led the nation in three-point percentage.

Following a rebuilding year, Creighton reached the 2016 NIT quarterfinals before returning to the NCAA tournament a year later with 25 victories. The 2016-17 squad set a school record for total points and spent 16 weeks in the polls, climbing as high as No. 7.

Lutz got his coaching start under Danny Kaspar at Incarnate Word, first serving as a graduate assistant before making the leap to full-time status. He helped the Cardinals – an NAIA program at the time – to three Heart of America regular season titles (1996, 1998, 1999) and three national tournament appearances, highlighted by a quarterfinal run in 1998.

After a year on staff at Garden City (Kan.) Community College, Lutz reunited with Kaspar at Stephen F. Austin for a six-year run at assistant coach/recruiting coordinator and helped guide the Lumberbacks to a pair of 20-win seasons in the Southland Conference.

PLAYING CAREER:

Originally from San Antonio, Texas, Lutz played basketball for one season at Ranger Junior College and for three at Texas Lutheran, serving as team captain during his senior year.

He earned his undergraduate degree in Kinesiology with a minor in Secondary Education/Business Administration from TLU in 1995 and his M.Ed. with a Concentration in Physical Education, at Incarnate Word in 1997.

PERSONAL:

Lutz and his wife, Shannon, have three children: Caroline, McKenna and Jackson.

"I'm thrilled for Coach Lutz and his family. He was instrumental in developing our program at Creighton during our first seven years in Omaha. The job he has done in both of his head coaching stops has been nothing short of incredible. He is truly a program builder. Cowboy basketball is in great hands!"

-- Greg McDermott, Creighton Head Coach

"Steve Lutz has had success everywhere he has been and will do the same at Oklahoma State. He is a relentless recruiter and tactician, is driven to succeed and gets the most out of his players. The relationships he cultivates with his players are outstanding. He will thrive in Stillwater."

-- Matt Painter, Purdue Head Coach

JAMES MILLER

Associate Head Coach | 2nd Season

He previously served as the Associate Head Coach at Mississippi State and New Mexico State under Chris Jans. In a six-year span he helped those programs to four NCAA appearances and five conference regular season and tournament titles.

In 10 total seasons at the Division I level, Miller has been part of postseason runs at six different schools while collecting more than 200 wins (211-115, .647). Prior to that, he was a successful head coach at New Mexico Junior College, developing 21 Division I scholarship players in three seasons, including former Oklahoma State point guard Jeff Newberry and current Oklahoma City Thunder forward Kenrich Williams

In Starkville, Miss., Miller and Jans earned back-to-back NCAA tournament bids, breathing life into a Mississippi State program that had danced just once in the previous 13 seasons. The Bulldogs were one of the nation's stingiest defenses, twice finishing among the top-25 in KenPom's defensive efficiency rankings.

Miller was elevated from assistant coach to associate head coach in the spring of 2023 after a debut season in which the Bulldogs ranked ninth in defensive efficiency and among the NCAA leaders in scoring defense (9th, .61.0), field goal percentage defense (10th, .394) and steals (23rd, 8.6).

Miller and Jans' partnership began with a successful four-year run at New Mexico State (2018-22), the last three of which he served as associate head coach. The Aggies became the WAC's premier program, winning more than three-quarters of their games (94-26, .783) along with three regular season titles and a pair of conference tournament crowns. NMSU's .825 conference winning percentage (52-11) was the nation's sixth highest in that span, and 10 Aggies earned first or second team All-WAC honors, headlined by 2022 WAC Player of the Year Teddy Allen.

The Aggies set a program record with 30 wins during the 2018-19 season and took an 18-game winning streak into the NCAA tournament before dropping a heartbreaker to eventual Final Four participant Auburn in the first round, 78-77. Despite not having a player taller than 6-foot-9, NMSU overwhelmed its opponents on the glass, posting the nation's third-best rebounding margin (+9.7).

The 2019-20 squad was on a similar trajectory, ripping off 19-straight wins – the last 16 during an undefeated run through the WAC regular season – before COVID-19 wiped out the conference and NCAA tournaments.

The pandemic proved to be the only force powerful enough to curb New Mexico State's dominance. Local health and safety protocols limited the team to just three games and a handful of practices during the first two months of the 2020-21 season, which ended with a 12-8 mark.

The Aggies returned to form in 2021-22 with a 27-7 record, a sweep of the WAC regular season and tournament titles, and the program's first NCAA tournament victory in nearly in 20 years. Led by Allen's 37 points, the No. 12 seed NMSU stunned fifth-seeded UConn, 70-63, in the first round.

Prior to New Mexico State, Miller was an assistant under Derrin Hanson at Omaha (2015-16) and under current Texas Tech coach Grant McCasland for one-year stops at Arkansas State (2016-17) and North Texas (2017-18). All three teams earned bids to the College Basketball Invitational.

North Texas, which had never won a postseason game in nearly six decades of Division I basketball, ripped off five of them during its 2018 CBI title run. The Mean Green were one of the nation's most-improved teams, winning 20 total games (up from eight the previous year).

Miller was involved in a similar turnaround at Arkansas State (2016-17), which doubled its win total from 10 to 20 and reached the CBI semifinals.

During his season in Omaha (2015-16), Miller helped the Mavericks to their first winning season at the DI level (18-14) and a third-place finish in the Summit League. The team ranked fourth nationally in scoring offense (85.3) and fifth in steals (9.4).

Before making the jump to the NCAA Division I level, Miller spent six years at New Mexico Junior College in Hobbs, the last three as head coach. His teams went 77-23 (.770) and ended the program's 17-year national tournament drought with back-to-back appearances in 2013 and 2014.

Miller cut his teeth in the coaching profession as an assistant at Colorado State-Pueblo from 2005-09 after a summer interning with the Arizona State men's basketball program. He earned his bachelor's degree from Colorado State in 2005 while serving as a student manager and added a master's degree from Northern Colorado in 2007.

Miller and his wife Darlene have two daughters: Mia and Maci.

LOU GUDINO

Assistant Coach | 1st Season

Lou Gudino arrived in May 2025 as an assistant coach and serves as one of the two defensive coordinators on Steve Lutz's staff.

The 28-year coaching veteran spent the past three years as the associate head coach at Ball State and held similar titles at Wichita State, New Mexico State and Indiana State.

At Ball State (2022-25) under head coach Michael Lewis, Gudino worked closely with the Cardinal big men, including three-time all-conference center Payton Sparks, who finished his career ranked among the program's all-time leaders in blocks, rebounds, free throws and field goal percentage.

Gudino worked similar magic at Wichita State (2018-22) where he was a part of four straight winning seasons, highlighted by the program's first American Athletic Conference regular season title, and coached five players who would go on to the NBA.

Gudino was also instrumental in the recruitment of future Cleveland Cavaliers point guard Craig Porter Jr. – a 6-foot-2 unicorn who finished among the program's career top-10 in blocks, steals and assists per game.

Tyson Etienne (2021 AAC Co-Player of the Year), Dexter Dennis (2022 ACC Defensive Player of the Year) and Ricky Council IV (2022 AAC Sixth Man of the Year) were major award recipients, and center Jaime Echenique became the first Colombian-born player to appear in an NBA regular season game.

Gudino's arrival in Wichita coincided with a full-on youth movement. A Shocker team with six freshman regulars started the year 8-11 before winning 14 of its next 17 on the way to the NIT semifinals.

That momentum carried into the following year when the Shockers posted a 23-8 record and fielded the nation's eighth best defense, per KenPom. They were a consensus NCAA at-large pick among the bracketologists but missed out on a chance to prove it when COVID-19 put an early end to the postseason.

Faced with another rebuilding year, the 2020-21 Shockers again exceeded expectations. Picked seventh in the AAC preseason poll, WSU finished 11-2 in league play to win the league's regular season title over Final Four-bound Houston and earned an at-large NCAA tournament berth.

Prior to WSU, Gudino spent a season at New Mexico State (2017-18) as top assistant to Chris Jans. The two made an immediate splash, guiding the Aggies to a 28-6 record, the 2018 WAC regular season and tournament titles, and a No. 12 seed in the NCAA tournament. Gudino also coached Jemerrio Jones, the nation's second-leading rebounder (13.2), to WAC Player of the Year and honorable mention All-American honors.

Gudino spent a decade at Indiana State (2007-17) where he helped guide the Sycamores to five consecutive postseason trips, highlighted by a 2011 NCAA Tournament appearance and back-to-back NIT bids in 2013 and 2014.

Gudino's 10 seasons at ISU marked the longest assistant coaching tenure in program history. Originally hired by Kevin McKenna in 2007, he was retained by new head coach Greg Lansing in 2010 and promoted to associate head coach. In the first of their seven seasons together, Lansing and Gudino guided the Sycamores to a 20-14 record and ended a decade-long NCAA Tournament drought by winning the 2011 Arch Madness (MVC Tournament) title.

Gudino served as Indiana State's recruiting and scheduling coordinator. During his tenure he coached eight All-MVC honorees, including two-time first-teamer Jake Odum (2013 & 2014). Brenton Scott was the 2015 MVC Freshman of the Year.

Prior to his time with the Sycamores, Gudino spent two seasons at LA Tech (2005-07) in Ruston, La. as assistant coach and recruiting coordinator. The Bulldogs posted a 20-13 record in his first season (11-5 WAC) on their way to an NIT bid.

ROBERT GUSTER

Assistant Coach | 2nd Season

A 25-year veteran with deep Texas ties, Robert Guster begins his second season as an Oklahoma State assistant coach and his third working with head coach Steve Lutz.

Guster is one of two defensive coordinators on the OSU staff. In his first season, the Cowboys forced 511 turnovers (18th nationally) and broke a 36-year old school record for steals (9.1 per game), with junior guard Arturo Dean becoming the first Poke since Marcus Smart to lead the Big 12 in that category (2.4).

Guster held a similar role under Lutz at Western Kentucky during the 2023-24 season. Together they led the Hilltoppers to 22 wins, a Conference USA championship and the program's first NCAA tournament bid in 11 years.

Guster was part of four 20-wins seasons at Texas State (2016-23), highlighted by back-to-back Sun Belt Conference championships in 2021 and 2022 and the program's first ever appearance in the National Invitation Tournament.

The Bobcats were an elite defensive unit, leading the league in scoring defense in five of his seven seasons on staff and finishing among the nation's top 30 on three occasions. Guster worked primarily with the big men. His 2019 group led the SBC in rebounds-per-game and the 2022 squad finished with the league's best field goal percentage. He also had a hand in the development of Lou Henson All-American and 2020 Sun Belt Player of the Year Nijal Pearson.

In 10 years at UTSA (2006-16) under Thompson, Guster helped the Roadrunners to a league championship and two conference tournament title games. The 2011 squad earned the school's first ever NCAA tournament victory in any sport.

Guster's first Division I assistant job came at Southeast Missouri State in Cape Girardeau, Mo. (2004-06). He was heavily involved in the Redhawks' recruiting efforts and oversaw the program's academic affairs.

Guster started his coaching career at West Plains Community College (now Missouri State-West Plains). In his five seasons on staff (1999-2004) the Grizzlies posted a 120-36 record, and 10 of his recruits went on to earn opportunities at the Division I level.

Guster was West Plains' starting point guard for two seasons before finishing out his playing career with back-to-back winning seasons at Missouri-Rolla (now Missouri S&T). He twice paced the team in assists and also led the MIAA Conference in assist-to-turnover ratio.

Born in Chicago and raised in West Monroe, La., Guster earned his bachelor's degree in history from Missouri-Rolla in 1999. He later received his master's degree in elementary education from Missouri State in 2002. He and his wife, Melissa, have one daughter, Alivia, and a son, Shiloh..

"Coach Guster is already well-versed in the Cowboy Way, having worked 10 years under former OSU guard, Brooks Thompson at UTSA. He is a builder of strong relationships and defenses – two things that often go hand-in-hand. We'll lean on his recruiting contacts throughout the Midwest to bring in talented, high-character guys, as well as his ability to teach and motivate."

KEITON PAGE

Assistant Coach | 14th Season (3rd as AC)

The same leadership qualities, basketball knowledge and relentless work ethic that made Keiton Page one of the great scorers in Cowboy Basketball history continue to benefit the program today.

The 2025-26 season will be Page's 18th overall at Oklahoma State his second as an assistant coach under Steve Lutz. He serves as one of two offensive coordinators.

Prior to that, Page was a four-year starter and two-time All-Big 12 performer for the Cowboys from 2008-12. He still ranks tenth on the school's career scoring list with 1,651 points and is second all-time in three-point field goals (299).

Altogether, Page has helped the Cowboys to nine 20-win campaigns, seven NCAA tournament appearances and four NITs.

Page started his coaching journey as a graduate assistant and later assistant director of strength and conditioning under Ford, his former coach (2012-16). Brad Underwood retained Page as his assistant director of player development in 2016-17 and Boynton promoted him to director a year later.

During that time Page took an active role in the on and off-court progress of the Cowboy student-athletes while assisting the coaching staff with game and practice film analysis. In later years, he added operations to his plate, handling team gear and scheduling while running point for a number of alumni and community outreach events, including the annual summer camps.

The 5-foot-10 Page earned the nickname "the Pawnee Pistol" for his exploits at Pawnee High School. Playing for his father, David, he won a pair of 2A state titles (2005 and 2008). As a senior he set new state records for points (1,287) and points-per-game (44.4) on his way to state player of the year honors.

Page's family tree is packed full of Oklahoma high school coaches. His grandfather, Howard Ray, was a legendary coach at Collinsville High School. His father, Davis, won six state titles as Pawnee and Yale. Brother Brady played and assisted on those teams and is now the head coach at Hennessey.

"After visiting with Keiton, it was clear that our values and priorities align. I'm delighted to have him on our bench. His work ethic, basketball knowledge, leadership skills, and deep-rooted connection to Oklahoma State will be invaluable as we rebuild Cowboy Basketball."

DANA VALENTINE

Assistant Coach | 1st Season

The 2025-26 season marks Dana Valentine's first as an assistant coach on Steve Lutz's Cowboy Basketball staff. He'll serve as one of the two OSU offensive coordinators.

Valentine arrives after two seasons at St. Bonaventure where he worked primarily with the wings under head coach Mark Schmidt and was a part of back-to-back 20-win seasons.

The 2024-25 Bonnies ranked 23rd nationally in scoring defense and hosted an NIT game for just the third time in school history, while the 2023-24 squad reached semifinals of the A10 tournament.

Prior to his stint at St. Bonaventure, Valentine spent five years in Connecticut at one of the nation's premier high school programs, Putnam Science Academy. He served as head varsity coach from 2018-21 before transitioning to an assistant role with the prep team. In two seasons he helped lead that group to a 77-3 record and a pair of national championships.

Off the court, Valentine coordinated team travel and served as the school's compliance director, supporting student-athletes through the NCAA clearinghouse and the college admissions process.

During Valentine's time at Putnam, numerous Mustangs went on to the NCAA Division I level, including future Cowboys Benjamin Ahmed (a sophomore on Putnam's 2022-23 national title winner), Arturo Dean (a member of its undefeated 2021-22 squad) and Abou Ousmane (2018-19).

A native of Roxbury, Massachusetts, Valentine was a college football running back at Worcester State University before taking an unlikely path into the basketball world through his involvement in the grassroots community.

He was a volunteer assistant coach at Notre Dame Prep from 2016 to 2017 and spent five years working with AAU New England (2016-21), serving as head coach of the 15U team, assistant coach for the 16U and 17U teams, and recruiting coordinator.

###

"I believe in surrounding our student-athletes with great teachers and even better people, and Dana fits that mold perfectly," Lutz said. "He brings infectious energy, a passion for teaching, and a proven ability to help players maximize their potential. We're excited for the impact he's going to make here in Stillwater."

SCOTT SUTTON

Special Assistant | 9th Season (2nd as SA)

Scott Sutton's Cowboy roots run deep. The son of legendary head coach Eddie Sutton helped lead Oklahoma State to consecutive NCAA tournaments as a player in the mid-90's before becoming the all-time coaching wins leader at Oral Roberts. He's been an experienced hand on the Cowboy Basketball bench since 2017.

The 2024-25 season marks Sutton's eighth at OSU and first as Special Assistant to new head coach Steve Lutz.,

At OSU, Sutton has been part of three 20-win seasons and five postseason victories. The 2021 Cowboys reached the second round of the NCAA tournament and the 2018 and 2023 squads advanced to the NIT semifinals.

In 18 seasons as the head coach at Oral Roberts (1999-2017), Sutton guided the Golden Eagles to a program record 328 career victories. His teams reached the postseason eight times, including three tournament bids. The three-time Summit League Coach of the Year also produced four AP All-Americans and four conference players of the year.

Sutton was arguably the most efficient guard in OSU history during his two-year Cowboy career (1992-94) during which the Cowboys twice reached the second round of the NCAA tournament. He still holds the program's season (5.67) and career records for assist-to-turnover (3.69).

As a senior he tallied 119 assists with just 21 giveaways.

After graduating from OSU in 1995, Sutton made the short trip to Oral Roberts to serve on staffs under Bill Self (1995-97) and Barry Hinson (1997-99).

He was announced as the head coach at ORU on April 30, 1999 and wasted little time in returning the program to prominence. Sutton and the Golden Eagles fired off 14 consecutive winning seasons starting in 2001-02, highlighted by a run of three straight NCAA tournament appearances from 2006-08.

Sutton's teams took down a number of notable names during his tenure, including the likes of Arkansas, Georgetown, Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas and even Oklahoma State.

A 78-71 win in Allen Fieldhouse against the No. 3 Jayhawks on Nov. 15, 2006 put the basketball world on notice – ORU had arrived. The Golden Eagles would go on to win 21 games that year, capture the Summit League regular season and tournament crowns and advance to the NCAA Tournament.

ORU returned to March Madness in each of the next two seasons marking the first time in program history that the Golden Eagles had danced in back-to-back years. Sutton's teams logged additional postseason bids in 2011 (CIT), 2012 (NIT), 2013 (CIT) and 2015 (CBI).

Under Sutton, Caleb Green was a three-time All-American and won three Summit League Player of the Year Awards. Dominique Morrison did the same during the 2011-12 season. He also coached five Freshman All-Americans, four conference newcomers of the year, two league defensive MVPs and a pair of sixth men of the year.

Sutton's own trophy case includes three different Summit League Coach of the Year awards (2002, 2008 and 2012). In 2005 he shared the NABC's District 12 Coach of the Year honor with his father, Eddie, and in 2007 he was a finalist for the Clair Bee National Coach of the Year.

No head coach has won more Summit League games than Sutton (173) and his .665 conference winning percentage also ranks among the best in league history.

Sutton and his wife, Kim, are the parents of three daughters: Hallie, Lauren and Maggie.

REID SIGMON

Deputy AD / MBB Sport Administrator | 5th Year
Wake Forest, '96

Reid Sigmon joined the Oklahoma State athletic department in the role of Deputy Athletic Director in 2021. During his career, he has been a key figure in the planning of three Super Bowls and an NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Final Four, has served as Chief Financial Officer of the College Football Playoff and has worked with such organizations as the Cleveland Browns and Kansas State.

Sigmon came to OSU following a four-year run as Deputy AD for Finance and Operations/Chief Operating officer at the University of Tennessee. While in Knoxville, he served as sport administrator for men's basketball, managed the day-to-day operations of the department, oversaw internal and external operations and was liaison to the university's Office of the General Counsel and Senior Vice Chancellor for Administration and Finance. He took on the additional responsibility of serving as a member of the Southeastern Conference's Ticket Committee as well as the league's Working Group on Event Security.

Sigmon has a significant background in football with high-level administrative experience as Executive Director of the Tampa Bay Super Bowl XLIII Host Committee (2007-09), Vice President of Operations of the Jacksonville Super Bowl XXXIX Host Committee (2003-05) and Director of Operations of the Tampa Bay Super Bowl XXXV Task Force (1999-01).

An original staff member of the College Football Playoff, Sigmon was responsible for all financial, administrative and revenue aspects of the CFP. He also provided support to the selection committee. During his time as a leader with the College Football Playoff, it was named the Sports Event of the Year by the Sports Business Journal in 2015. He was also named by Al.com as one of the "SEC's behind-the-scenes power players you need to know".

He also worked from 2005-07 as the Director of Stadium Development and Event Operations for the NFL's Cleveland Browns, where he was responsible for the management, supervision and coordination of all the organization's event logistics and stadium construction projects. He managed all capital projects at Cleveland Browns Stadium, special events such as draft-day parties and training camp and also assisted with overall stadium operations and gameday management.

Prior to his three Super Bowl appointments, Sigmon was the Assistant Director for the Tampa Bay Organizing Committee for the 1999 NCAA Division I Men's Final Four in St. Petersburg, Florida.

Sigmon has previous experience in the Big 12, as he worked at K-State from 2009-13, ultimately rising to the post of Senior Associate AD and COO. While in Manhattan, he managed the day-to-day operations of the Wildcats' athletic department, including finance and contractual and legal matters. Sigmon helped transform K-State Athletics from a department with a forecasted $2 million operating deficit in 2009 to one eventually recognized by ESPN, USA TODAY and other outlets as a model of intercollegiate fiscal responsibility, while also laying the groundwork for what grew to $210 million in athletic facility improvements, all privately funded without state or university dollars.

He also was the K-State athletics liaison to the university counsel and vice president for administration and finance offices. And he worked closely with the Wildcats football program and legendary Hall of Fame Coach Bill Snyder, earning a 2012 Big 12 football championship ring.

His career in intercollegiate athletics administration began in 1996 at his alma mater of Wake Forest after the conclusion of his football playing career--during which he lettered as a placekicker and played for head coaches Bill Dooley and Jim Caldwell-- as he landed a position as an operations and facilities assistant.

Active in philanthropic initiatives, Sigmon stood for four years as a governance officer on the College Football Playoff Foundation, which serves as the CFP's charitable arm.

A longtime NACDA member, Sigmon graduated magna cum laude with a degree in politics from Wake Forest in 1996, and he earned his MBA from Florida in 2003. At UF, he served as president of the MBA Association and was a Matherly Scholar.

A roster featuring 10 newcomers played some of its best basketball down the stretch, upsetting ninth-ranked Iowa State in late February before making a push to the NIT quarterfinals.

Along the way, the Pokes treated fans to a fast and exciting brand of basketball, ranking 12th nationally in adjusted tempo while breaking a 36-year old school record for steals (9.1 per game). Junior guard Arturo Dean became the first Cowboy since Marcus Smart to lead the Big 12 in that category (2.5).

Veteran Bryce Thompson enjoyed a career year, putting up a team-best 13.0 points on his way to honorable mention all-conference status. He finished his career ranked among the program's all-time scoring leaders (19th, 1,394) and became just the ninth Cowboy to average double-figure points in four different seasons.

Fifth-year forward Abou Ousmane ranked second on the team in scoring (12.2) and was its top rebounder (5.2) and shot-blocker (35).

OSU maintained its breakneck pace with help from a deep bench. Led by fifth-year Marchelus "Chi Chi" Avery (11.4 ppg, team-best 56 threes), Cowboy reserves accounted for a league-high 30.6 points per game (13th nationally) while clocking more than 42% of the minutes (10th).

- Six Cowboys scored in double-figures to help OSU win its first Big 12 era meeting with Arizona State and improve to 9-2 on its home floor.
- Jamyron Keller made 4-of-6 threes in a 14-point effort and five others chipped in 10 apiece.
- The Cowboys shot 44% to ASU's 33% and finished plus-12 on the glass. They outscored the visitors 15-7 on fast break opportunities and 32-16 in the paint. Both sides were 22-of-26 at the foul line.
- OSU used its depth to wear down an already depleted ASU team. The Sun Devils were without two suspended starters and lost a third (Jayden Quaintance) to injury midway through the first half. A fourth -- center Shawn Phillips -- fouled out with just under 6:00 remaining.
- OSU jumped to an 11-2 lead and played the rest of the way from in front. Up 10 at halftime, the Cowboys used another 16-5 push early in the second half to grow the lead to 19 and protected it with timely free throw shooting. They sank 16-of-18 after halftime, including 13-of-14 over the final 5:40.

Oklahoma State	31	41	-	72
TCU	38	35	-	73

- Vasean Allette's desperation three with 0.4 seconds gave TCU an improbable 73-72 victory and OSU its seventh straight loss in Fort Worth.
- The shot spoiled the Cowboys' own remarkable comeback as well as their first Big 12 road win.
- TCU had the ball and a three-point lead with 33 seconds to play before speedy point guard Arturo Dean forced a pair of Horned Frog turnovers. The first led to a Brandon Newman jumper and the latter to an Abou Ousmane dunk that gave the Cowboys their first lead of the night -- 71-70 -- with just 19 seconds to play.
- TCU missed a layup and a tip-in, and Newman emerged from the pack with the rebound. He split a pair of free throws for a 72-70 margin with 3.2 seconds remaining.
- TCU's long inbound grazed the fingertips of an OSU defender near midcourt and landed softly in the arms of Allette, who turned, set his feet and launched a contested 25-foot jumper off the bounce for the last of his team-high 16 points.
- TCU shot 48.2% to OSU's 40.7%. The Cowboys made 18-of-24 free throws to TCU's 12-of-20 and outscored the Frogs 25-11 off turnovers.

- OSU missed a game-winning three at the buzzer in an NIT Quarterfinal loss to North Texas.
- Bryce Thompson and Brandon Newman scored 17 points apiece and Arturo Dean added 12 points and seven rebounds, but the Cowboys otherwise struggled against the nation's No. 3 scoring defense.
- Atin Wright put up 15 for UNT, which defeated the Cowboys in the NIT's round-of-eight for the second time in three years.
- OSU made 42% of its shots, including 54% after halftime, compared to UNT's 38%. The difference came at the foul line, where OSU converted just 9-of-16 to UNT's 14-of-21.
- The Cowboys forged ahead 44-43 on Newman's triple with 6:47 to go. Wright answered for UNT with a four-point play, which set off a 9-0 counter.
- Down 61-52 with 1:11 remaining, Newman produced a three-point play and one of two Cowboy steals during a 7-0 run that cut the deficit to 61-59 with 41 seconds left. OSU came up with another defensive stop, but Newman's would-be winner from the right wing was off target.

Amid the backdrop of World War II, Oklahoma A&M became the first school from west of the Mississippi to win the NCAA Tournament title.

With Missouri Valley Conference play suspended, coach Henry Iba crafted a creative and ambitious schedule featuring a mix of military teams -- often composed of former collegiate and AAU standouts -- and barnstorming matchups against top college programs.

In mid-December, the Aggies embarked on a three-game swing through the Northeast, highlighted by a win over NYU at Madison Square Garden, offering a sneak peek of the national title game that would unfold three months later on that same floor. Fans also got an early preview of the national semifinal matchup: A&M faced Arkansas three times during the regular season, winning two, including a victory in the All-College Tournament final.

Iba's team hit a midseason skid, falling to 7-3 after back-to-back losses to Norman Naval Air Station and Arkansas, but regrouped to win 20 of its last 21. The lone exception was a February road loss at DePaul. The January addition of guard Cecil Hankins, who had also starred as halfback on A&M's 1945 Cotton Bowl champion football team, helped spark the resurgence.

Led by 7-foot All-American Bob Kurland, the Aggies were among the most disciplined and defensively dominant teams in college basketball. They held opponents to just 33.5 points per game while averaging 54.1 themselves. Kurland led the team with 17.1 points per game, while Hankins (13.4) and Weldon Kern (9.8) provided critical scoring depth.

Though A&M had long been a national power under Iba, the program had not qualified for the NCAA Tournament since its debut in 1939, falling short three times in district playoffs. In 1945, the Aggies not only made the field but dominated it, routing defending champion Utah (62-37) and Arkansas (68-41) at the West Regional in Kansas City.

The national championship game brought a rematch with NYU, played in the Violets' backyard at Madison Square Garden. NYU, led by future Hall of Famer Dolph Schayes, had the home-court edge, but Iba's smothering defense and Kurland's inside presence quieted the crowd of 18,035. Kurland had 22 points (as well as the first two dunks in an NCAA championship game) and Hankins added 15 in a gritty 49-45 win that secured A&M's first national title.

The Cowboys still had business to attend to before leaving New York. Two nights later, they defeated NIT champion DePaul, 52-44, in a Red Cross Benefit Game, widely viewed as a de facto national championship.

Oklahoma A&M cemented its place in college basketball history, becoming the first school to win back-to-back NCAA Tournament championships. Led by the nation's top scorer, 7-footer Bob Kurland, and its stingiest defense (32.1 points allowed per game), the Aggies finished the year with a 31-2 mark.

One of the two defeats came in the first week of the regular season, at home against DePaul. But the Aggies rebounded with 15 consecutive wins. In late December, A&M successfully defended its All-College Tournament title in Oklahoma City, defeating Texas, Kansas, and Baylor in succession. KU would go on to win the Big Six title and Baylor the Southwest Conference.

On Feb. 8, A&M avenged its loss to DePaul with a 46-38 win in Chicago but was stunned the following night by Bowling Green. The slip-up cost the Aggies their winning streak but lit a fuse that would burn the rest of the way. Henry Iba's team surged into postseason play with 11 straight wins by an average margin of more than 23 points and finished the regular season at 27-2.

The Aggies were unbeaten in Missouri Valley Conference play, winning all 12 games by double-figures, and their entire starting five was voted first team all-conference with veteran seniors Kurland, Weldon Kern and Sam Aubrey joined by sophomore standouts J.L. Parks and Blake Williams.

The Aggies defeated KU for a second time, 49-38, to claim the NCAA district title. Those were the only losses that year for the 19-2 Jayhawks who were in their final season under Phog Allen. In the West Regional, A&M dispatched Baylor (44-29) and California (52-35) to punch a return ticket to the Final Four at Madison Square Garden.

In the national championship game, the Aggie defense once again rose to the occasion, holding North Carolina to just 17 first-half points in a 43-40 victory. Kurland dominated the interior, finishing with a game-high 23 points on nine field goals and five free throws. For the second consecutive year, he was named NCAA Tournament Most Outstanding Player, sealing his place as one of the sport's early greats.

Henry Iba guided the 1948-49 Oklahoma A&M Aggies to a 23-5 record and the program's third national championship game appearance in five seasons.

The team also made history in the weeks leading up to the postseason. The Associated Press released its first ever national poll on Jan. 17, 1949, and three days later, the Aggies became the first to upset a No. 1-ranked team, downing Saint Louis in overtime, 29-27.

Just getting to the tournament was an achievement out of the rugged Missouri Valley Conference, which boasted three of the top seven teams in the final AP poll. The Aggies (ranked No. 2) finished 9-1 and atop the standings after sweeping two games from No. 3 SLU (8-2) and splitting with No. 7 Bradley (6-4). That earned them the right to represent the MVC in a district playoff where they routed Big 7 champ Nebraska, 52-35.

A&M won its West Region semifinal in dramatic fashion. Trailing 39-34, Jack Shelton scored three baskets in the final 1:40 — capped by a layup with four seconds left — to give the Aggies a 40-39 victory. The regional final against Oregon State proved far less tense, as A&M cruised to a 55-30 win.

The victory set up a championship game against defending champion and top-ranked Kentucky in Seattle. Sportswriters called it a "dream game." A battle of contrasting styles pitted Iba's deliberate, ball-control offense against Adolph Rupp's slashing, up-tempo attack. Nearly 12,000 fans filled Edmundson Pavilion on the University of Washington campus. The Aggies struggled with their shooting, and Kentucky All-America Alex Groza scored 25 to lead the Wildcats to a 46-36 win.

Bob Harris led the Aggies in scoring and earned All-America honors. All five starters received All-Missouri Valley Conference recognition — Harris on the first team, J.L. Parks and Vernon Yates on the second, and Joe Bradley and Shelton on the third.

Two years removed from an NCAA runner-up finish, Oklahoma A&M was once again a national contender in 1951, finishing 29-6 with another Missouri Valley Conference championship and the program's fourth Final Four appearance under Henry Iba.

The Aggies opened the season with a blistering 16-0 run, including 11 victories away from Gallagher Hall. By mid-January, they had climbed to No. 1 in the Associated Press poll for the first time in program history. They quickly validated that ranking with an 11-point win over No. 8 Saint Louis, though in-state rival Oklahoma knocked them from the unbeaten ranks just three nights later with a 44-40 upset in Norman. A&M regrouped to reel off nine more wins and entered postseason play ranked No. 2 in the nation.

The 1951 tournament carried historical significance: it was the first to feature a 16-team field and the last to use just two regional sites, with the true "Final Four" format -- national semifinals and final in the same location -- set to debut the following year.

In the West Regional in Kansas City, the Aggies edged Montana State, 50-46, and outlasted Washington, 61-57, before falling to Kansas State in the regional final, 61-44. Despite the setback, A&M advanced to Minneapolis for a third-place game, where Illinois prevailed, 61-46.

Junior Don Johnson paced the Aggies in scoring at 12.1 points per game, while senior Gale McArthur added 11.6 and earned All-America honors. Johnson would garner All-America recognition the following season. Both players were later selected in the NBA Draft, cementing their place among the program's greats.

Few would have predicted it in mid-January when the Cowboys lost at Michigan State (their fourth setback in six games) to fall to 10-6, but Eddie Sutton's team found its identity soon after, reeling off wins in 17 of their next 20 en route to the program's first Final Four appearance in 44 years.

Opposing defenses were forced to pick their poison: collapse on 7-foot All-American Bryant "Big Country" Reeves (21.5 ppg, 9.5 rpg) in the paint or chase sharpshooting guard Randy Rutherford (19.6 ppg, 146 threes) around the perimeter. Point guard Andre Owens thrived as the facilitator, leading the Big Eight with 6.9 assists per game.

The Cowboys narrowly missed a Big Eight regular-season title, falling to Kansas in a winner-take-all matchup in Lawrence—despite Rutherford's school-record 11 three-pointers. But they eased the disappointment with a dominant run through the Big Eight Tournament, defeating Nebraska, Oklahoma, and Iowa State to cut down the nets in Kansas City.

Seeded No. 4 in the East Regional, Oklahoma State breezed past Drexel (73-49) and Alabama (66-52), the latter behind a 21-point, 11-rebound outing from Reeves against future NBA No. 2 pick Antonio McDyess. In East Rutherford, N.J., the Cowboys continued their run with marquee wins over No. 1 seed Wake Forest (71-66) and UMass (68-54). Reeves delivered 16 points and nine boards against future Hall of Famer Tim Duncan, then dominated Marcus Camby with a 23-point, 10-rebound effort. Guard Scott Pierce added the game's signature moment, scoring 12 points while playing through a dislodged tooth after taking an elbow to the face. Defensively, the Cowboys stifled UMass, holding the Minutemen to just 27.6% shooting.

Sutton told reporters afterward: "I know the man that I played for (Henry Iba), who I consider to be one of the giants that has ever coached the round-ball sport, he's got a big smile on his face today, looking down on this group of young men, because they played the game like he would have coached it."

In the Final Four in Seattle, the Cowboys met top-ranked UCLA. The teams traded blows into the closing minutes. Reeves poured in 25 points, and Rutherford hit a deep three to pull OSU within 62-61 with 2:44 to play. But the Bruins closed with a 12-0 run to seal the win and went on to win the national title.

A mixture of transfers and homegrown talent blended together to form one of the most complete teams in Oklahoma State history and return the Cowboys to college basketball's biggest for the second time under Eddie Sutton.

With John Lucas III running the point, Tony Allen providing two-way dominance, the versatile Graham brothers anchoring the wings, and Ivan McFarlin controlling the paint, the Cowboys captured their first ever Big 12 regular-season title with a 14-2 record and then routed 11th-ranked Texas to bring home their first Big 12 tournament crown.

Ranked fourth in the nation and seeded No. 2 in the NCAA Tournament bracket, OSU shook off an early scare from No. 15 seed Eastern Washington. The teams were tied 36-all at halftime before the Cowboys turned up the defensive pressure. McFarlin finished with 20 points and 10 rebounds in an eventual 75-56 win.

Momentum carried into a second round win over Memphis. Joey Graham scored 21 points and McFarlin posted a second consecutive double-double to key a 70-53 victory.

From there, it was on to East Rutherford, site of OSU's 1995 Final Four break through. In the Sweet 16, Allen finished with 23 points and sparked a decisive 17-5 second-half run to help the Cowboys advance past Pittsburgh, 63-51.

That set up a regional final showdown with top-seeded Saint Joseph's, led by national player of the year Jameer Nelson and what would become one of the 2004 tournament's signature games. Down six at halftime, the Cowboys rallied late. With 6.9 seconds remaining, Lucas drilled a three-pointer from the wing to put OSU ahead. Nelson, who was hounded defensive by Daniel Bobik for much of the night, missed a contested jumper at the buzzer, sealing the Cowboys' 64-62 victory. The win sent OSU to the sixth FInal Four in school history.

Hall of Famers

There are many basketball halls of fame across the country, but the two most prestigious are the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Massachusetts — which honors the sport at every level — and the National Collegiate Basketball Hall of Fame in Kansas City, Missouri, dedicated specifically to the college game. Six men with Oklahoma State ties have been enshrined in at least one of the two.

Bob Kurland (1961), Henry Iba (1969), Don Haskins (1997), Bill Self (2017) and Eddie Sutton (2020) are all members of the Naismith Hall of Fame. In the Collegiate Hall, Kurland, Iba and Haskins were part of the inaugural class in 2006, followed by Sutton in 2011 and Jack Hartman in 2024.

ROBERT A. "BOB" KURLAND

Naismith HOF Class of 1961
Collegiate HOF Class of 2006

At 7-feet tall, Kurland was a dominant force who helped revolutionize basketball. Nicknamed "Foothills," he powered Oklahoma A&M to back-to-back NCAA championships in 1945 and 1946, and was twice named Most Outstanding Player of the tournament. His ability to swat shots led to the NCAA's ban on defensive goaltending. Kurland later starred for the AAU's Phillips 66 Oilers, winning three national titles, and made history as Olympic basketball's first two-time gold medalist, earning championships with Team USA in 1948 and 1952.

HENRY P. "HANK" IBA

Naismith HOF Class of 1969
Collegiate HOF Class of 2006

A coaching icon, Iba built Oklahoma A&M into the first program to win consecutive NCAA titles (1945, 1946) and later guided three U.S. Olympic teams, winning two gold medals. Known for discipline, defensive precision, and team-first play, Iba's philosophy influenced generations of coaches, including Bob Knight. His teams controlled tempo with deliberate ball movement and airtight defense, making low-scoring games a trademark. Iba retired with 767 wins, then the second-most in college basketball history, and left a lasting imprint on the sport.

DONALD L. "DON" HASKINS

Naismith HOF Class of 1997
Collegiate HOF Class of 2006

Best known for coaching Texas Western's landmark 1966 NCAA title, Haskins forever changed basketball by starting five Black players against Kentucky's all-white team, shattering barriers of race in college sports. Nicknamed "The Bear," the former Oklahoma A&M guard (1949-52) and Henry Iba protégé led UTEP for 38 seasons, posting a 719-353 record with 17 20-win campaigns, seven WAC titles, and 14 NCAA appearances. His legacy endures as both a pioneer of opportunity in the game and one of its most respected teachers.

BILLY E. "BILL" SELF JR.

Naismith HOF Class of 2017

Self has proven himself more than capable of carrying on the great tradition of coaches who have passed through the University of Kansas, but the Edmond, Okla., native got his start as a Cowboy at Oklahoma State. Self played for OSU from 1981-85 and racked up 319 career assists. He went on to serve as an assistant coach at both Kansas and OSU (from 1986-90 under Leonard Hamilton and 1990-93 under Eddie Sutton), and later served as the head coach at Oral Roberts, Tulsa and Illinois before taking over in Lawrence in 2003. The three-time national coach of the year has guided the Jayhawks to a pair of NCAA championships (2008, 2012) along with 16 Big 12 regular season titles and eight Big 12 tournament crowns.

EDWARD E. "EDDIE" SUTTON

Collegiate HOF Class of 2011

One of the game's great program builders, Sutton became the first coach to lead four different schools to the NCAA Tournament. A member of the 800-win club, Sutton restored his alma mater's tradition, guiding Oklahoma State to 14 NCAA appearances, including Final Fours in 1995 and 2004. Across 37 seasons at Creighton, Arkansas, Kentucky, and OSU, he won 17 conference titles and reached the tournament 26 times. Sutton, who played under Henry Iba at OSU from 1956-59, left a lasting mark through his discipline, defense, and consistency.

JOHN H. "JACK" HARTMAN

Naismith HOF Class of 2024

Hartman's story began in Stillwater, where he was a multi-sport athlete and 1950 graduate of Oklahoma A&M. He played basketball under Henry Iba, helping the 1943–44 Aggies win 27 games and reach the NIT, then returned from U.S. Navy service to quarterback the football team to the 1948 Missouri Valley title and earn all-conference honors. Hartman later launched his coaching career under Iba, guiding OSU's freshmen in 1954–55, where a young Eddie Sutton was among his players. From there, Hartman built a decorated head coaching career: winning a national title at Coffeyville Junior College (1962), the NIT championship at Southern Illinois (1967), and three Big Eight crowns at Kansas State, where he was named national coach of the year. He also led the U.S. to gold at the 1983 Pan American Games.

Sporting News National Player of the Year

Bob Kurland

As a senior in 1945–46, Kurland led the nation in scoring at 19.5 points per game and set a school record with 58 points against Saint Louis on Feb. 22, 1946 — a mark that still stands. The 7-footer's impact was even greater on the defensive end where Oklahoma A&M limited opponents to a nation-low 32.1 points. The Aggies finished the year 31-2 and won their second straight NCAA championship. Kurland scored 23 in the title game against North Carolina and was named Most Outstanding Player for the second year in a row.
That season, he earned National Player of the Year honors from both the Helms Foundation and Sporting News.

Basketball Times National Coach of the Year

Eddie Sutton

In his fourth season back at his alma mater, Sutton guided Oklahoma State to its first Final Four in 44 years and earned National Coach of the Year honors from Basketball Times. The Cowboys endured a rocky start, dropping two of their first three games and entering mid-January just 10-6. From there, OSU surged, winning nine of 10 to climb into contention and finished second in the Big Eight. After falling to Kansas in the regular-season finale, the Cowboys rebounded to win the Big Eight Tournament in Kansas City. As a No. 4 seed in the NCAA Tournament, OSU defeated Drexel, Alabama, Wake Forest, and UMass before falling to top-ranked UCLA in the national semifinals.

Adkins averaged 11.1 points and 4.1 assists per game as a senior for a Cowboy team that finished 27-7 and made the NCAA Elite Eight.

The 6-foot-2 guard finished his four-year OSU career with 1,189 points, 430 assists and 182 three-pointers. He was also a two-time All-Big 12 honorable mention selection and a member of the league's all-underrated squad in a vote of the media.

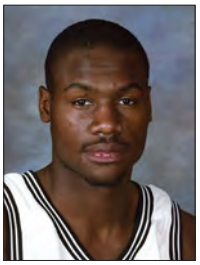
Tony Allen



A junior-college transfer from Butler Community College, Allen's OSU career was short but memorable. In just two seasons he totaled 1,021 points. The Chicago native was leading scorer as a senior (16.0 ppg) for a Cowboy team that won the Big 12 regular season and tournament titles and advanced to the Final Four. Allen won the Big 12 steals crown (2.1 spg) and shared conference player of the year honors with teammate John Lucas. He later took home MVP honors at the Big 12 tournament and landed on the East Rutherford Regional all-tournament team. Three months later, Allen was drafted with the 27th overall pick in the first round of the NBA draft by the Boston Celtics.

A.L. Bennett

The Holdenville, Okla., native was a key contributor to the program's golden era. As a sophomore, he helped the Aggies capture the 1946 NCAA Championship, scoring six points in a 43-40 victory over Kentucky in the title game.

The following season, with all five starters gone from the '46 championship team, Bennett stepped into a leadership role, averaging 10.3 points while guiding the Aggies to a 24-8 record. That performance earned him third team All-Missouri Valley Conference honors and a third team All-America nod from the Helms Foundation.

Bennett continued his stellar play as a senior in 1948 with another turn on the All-MVC first team and consensus All-American plaudits. Oklahoma A&M went a perfect 10-0 in conference play to claim the MVC title but lost a district playoff game against Kansas State for the right to play in the NCAA Tournament and finished the year with an overall record of 27-4.

Following his senior season, Bennett made school history one more time, becoming the first Cowboy selected in the NBA Draft (by the Providence Steam Rollers).

Arlen Clark

Clark came to OSU from Colbert, Okla., and as a sophomore, averaged 7.7 points and 4.3 rebounds per game. He was the first Cowboy to ever earn All-Big Eight Conference honors in OSU's inaugural season in the league in 1959 and was a two-time All-American.

His junior year, Clark averaged 17.3 points and 6.6 rebounds per contest, and was third nationally in free-throw percentage with an 86.4 mark. He was named a third-team All-American by the Helms Foundation. That year, OSU went 21-8, achieved a ranking as high as No. 6 late in the season, and lost to third-ranked K-State in the regional finals.

In 1958-59, his senior season, Clark averaged 20.4 points, the second-best mark in school history at the time. He set an NCAA record for consecutive free-throws made in a single game and for free-throw percentage in a game (24 of 24) that still holds today. He was again named a third-team All-American by the Helms Foundation.

Clark finished his three-year career with 1,197 points, an average of 15.3 ppg. He shot 84.9 percent from the line, a mark that ranks second in school history. He was the fifth player in OSU history to earn All-America honors twice or more.

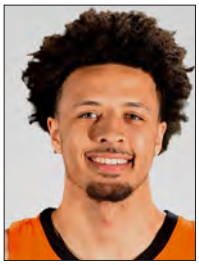
Cade Cunningham



A 6-8, 220 pound point guard, Cunningham entered Oklahoma State with lofty goals, and left Stillwater as the odds-on favorite to be the top pick in the Draft. The winner of the 2020 Naismith High School Player of the Year Trophy as the best prep player in the country, Cunningham became just the second Cowboy basketball player to earn Consensus First Team All-America honors, and the first since Bob Kurland in 1946.

Cunningham was named first team All-America selection by the Associated Press, USBWA, NABC, The Athletic and USA Today, and was also the Wayman Tisdale Award winner as the nation's top freshman.

He was the lone freshman named to the Associated Press Preseason All-America team.

The Arlington, Texas native was just the fourth player in league history to earn Big 12 Player and Freshman of the Year honors in the same season after leading the conference with 20.2 points per game.

In fact, only two other players in all of college basketball over the last 20 seasons can match his stellar all-around stat line of 20+ points, 6+ rebounds, 3.5+ assists, 1.25+ steals, .75+ blocks – Marquette's Dwyane Wade (2002-03) and Ohio State's Evan Turner (2009-10).

Cunningham burst onto the national scene with a dominating 40-point performance at Oklahoma. It was the 10th-best scoring performance in college basketball in 2020-21, and the last OSU player to score more on the road was Randy Rutherford at Kansas in 1995. Cunningham also grabbed 11 boards for the first 40-10 game against an AP top-10 team since 2006.

Cunningham is the first Oklahoma State Cowboy to be drafted No. 1 overall in the NBA Draft.

Jawun Evans

A dynamic combination of speed and basketball IQ gave Jawun Evans the ability to take over a game like few players in school history.

Evans was the catalyst of the highest scoring offense in program history at 85.7 points per game, and he was equally comfortable scoring 35 points against UConn or dishing out 15 assists against No. 1 Kansas in his final home game.

As a sophomore, Evans became the first OSU player to ever record a 600-point (613), 200-assist (204) season. He led all power conference players in points scored or created out of pick-and-roll situations, and his career averages against AP Top 25 opponents were mind-boggling - 20.7 points and 7.1 assists per game.

Evans led the Big 12 Conference in assists in 2016-17 with 6.4 per game, and his scoring average of 19.2 points per game ranked second. He was named First Team All-Big 12 by both the AP and the league's coaches, was a USBWA All-District honoree and earned recognition on several All-America squads.

His name is all over the OSU record books, but Cowboy fans will always remember Evans' 42-point explosion against Oklahoma as a freshman. It remains the most points scored in a Bedlam game by any player and the third highest scoring total in school history.

Evans became the 39th NBA Draft pick in Oklahoma State history when he was taken 39th overall by the Philadelphia 76ers, who immediately traded Evans to the Los Angeles Clippers.

He was named a third-team All-American by the National Association of Basketball Coaches following his senior season, just the fifth Cowboy to earn that distinction from the NABC. He was also named a third-team All-America selection by the Associated Press. He earned NABC first-team All-District 12 and first-team All-Big 12 accolades. Joey was listed on the ballot for the John R. Wooden Award, and was named to the Naismith Trophy Midseason Top 30 list.

In two short years with the Cowboys, Graham and Co. won 57 games and advanced to the Sweet 16 twice. OSU won the Big 12 regular season championship in 2004 and won back-to-back Big 12 Tournament titles in 2004 and 2005. He was named the Most Valuable Player at the Big 12 Tournament in 2005.

Kurland was a three-time All-American and the leading scorer and defender on back-to-back NCAA championship teams in 1945 and 1946.

Kurland was voted the Outstanding Player of the NCAA tournament in '45 and '46. He was named Player of the Year by the Helms Foundation in 1946 and named to Helms all-time All-America team. He was named to Grantland Rice's all-time All-Star selection. He was the highest scorer in the nation in 1946 with 643 points. He was to continue in the sport with the Phillips Oilers AAU team for a number of years. He played on the USA Olympic championship team in both 1948 at the London Games and 1952 in the Helsinki Games.

As the first of the outstanding seven-footers, Kurland may have been most valuable as a defensive player under the master of defensive basketball, Coach Henry Iba, but he could also score. He seldom went for the big score, although he was instructed to do so against OSU's great Missouri Valley conference rival, St. Louis University, on the night of Feb. 22, 1946. Kurland tossed in 58 points that night, by far his biggest scoring output. He was a feeder, usually content to score a modest 17 to 25 points. His average score in 1946 was 19.5 points per game.

As a freshman in 1943, he developed goal-tending to a degree that none had been able to do up until that time, although Iba disliked the maneuver and seldom allowed Kurland to practice it. It is probable that Kurland had more to do with the rule against goal-tending than any player since he was the chief target of the rule.

After a two-year stint at Baylor, Lucas transferred to Oklahoma State and became quite possibly the best point guard in school history. Not only was Lucas the floor general for a team that won 57 games over a two-year span, but he also led the Cowboys to back-to-back Sweet 16 appearances and a Final Four appearance in 2004.

Lucas was instrumental in OSU's school-record 31 win season, as well as a Big 12 regular-season championship and back-to-back Big 12 Tournament titles. It was his shot against Saint Joseph's near the end of the contest which sent Oklahoma State to the 2004 Final Four.

Not only was Lucas a prolific scorer and uncanny distributor of the basketball, but he was a big-time leader. He shared the Big 12 Conference Player of the Year honors with his teammate, Tony Allen.

Lucas was twice named to the Wooden Award ballot and was a member of the 10-man All-America team in 2004. He was also a second-team All-American according to the U.S. Basketball Writer's Association, and was a member of the Associated Press third-team All-America squad. That year, Oklahoma A&M was ranked as high as fifth and lost in the second round of the NCAA Tournament to Kansas. The Aggies finished the season with a 23-7 record.

In 1953-54, Mattick's senior season, he averaged 20.7 points and 11.2 rebounds per game, becoming the first player in school history to average a double-double. Once again, the Aggies earned a national ranking as high as fifth, finished the season with a 24-5 record and lost in the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

In his three-year career, Mattick recorded 1,378 points and 772, rebounds, averaging 16.6 and 9.3, respectively. He currently ranks as the 11th-most prolific scorer in OSU history, and ranks sixth in school history in career rebounds and third in free throws made.

Mattick's scoring average in 1954 was a school record for 26 years. He was drafted by the Milwaukee Hawks in the second round of the 1954 NBA Draft

Gale McArthur

McArthur came to Stillwater from Mangum, Okla., and was a member of two Oklahoma A&M Final Four teams, in 1949 and again in 1951. As a sophomore in 1948-49, he played in all 28 games and scored 83 points for the Pokes.

His junior year, McArthur played in all 27 contests, scoring 198 points as the Aggies failed to make the postseason. During the 1950-51 season, McArthur scored 408 points, averaging 11.6 points per contest as A&M made the national consolation finals. That year, he was named first-team All-Missouri Valley Conference and an All-American by several organizations and publications. He was named a first-team All-American by the Helms Foundation, Sporting News and Look Magazine, and a second-team selection by the Associated Press, United Press International, Converse Yearbook and Colliers/NABC. He was a consensus second-team All-American according to the NCAA.

The Aggies finished 29-6 that year, losing to Illinois in the third-place game. McArthur was drafted in the fourth round by Minneapolis in 1951.

J.L. Parks

Parks came to Oklahoma A&M from Paoli, Okla., near Pauls Valley, and was regarded as one of the finest defensive guards in the country. He played on both of Oklahoma A&M's national championship teams, and returned to Stillwater after a one-year stint in the army during World War II. His junior year, Parks averaged 6.6 points per game in leading the Aggies to a 27-4 record.

A year later, he averaged 6.7 points and joined Bob Harris as the first duo from A&M to both be named All-American in the same year, taking home second-team All-America honors from the Helms Foundation.

He was also named All-Missouri Valley Conference in 1946, '48 and 1949, and was selected for the East-West game in 1949. Parks played in 123 career games, a school record for 43 years. He was drafted by the Indianapolis Olympians in 1949.

Bryant Reeves

In his first season as a Cowboy, Reeves surprised everyone, starting in 34 of OSU's 36 games. He shot 52.1 percent and averaged 8.1 points and 5.1 rebounds, and was named to the Big Eight all-freshman squad.

His sophomore year, Reeves shot 62.1 percent from the floor, a school record at the time, and averaged a double-double with 19.5 points and 10 rebounds per contest. He became the first player since Wilt Chamberlain in 1958 to lead the Big Eight in those three categories. Reeves was named the Big Eight Player of the Year, was a member of the All-Big Eight first-team, and was an honorable mention All-American. He also earned Sports Illustrated's Most Improved Player in the nation.

A Playboy preseason All-American prior to his junior year, Reeves lived up to all expectations as he averaged 21 points and 9.7 rebounds per game. He shot 58.5 percent from the floor, and recorded a personal-best 70 blocked shots. Following the season, he was named third-team All-Amercan as well as first-team All-Big Eight.

Reeves' senior season matched his junior year almost identically, with one exception ... a Final Four appearance. He scored a school-record 797 points en route to a 21.5 points per game average. He was named the Big Eight Player of the Year for a second time, earned Big Eight Tournament MVP honors, and was named third-team All-American once again. Reeves was a first-round draft choice, the sixth pick overall, by Vancouver in 1995.

Renick, who came to Oklahoma A&M after a junior-college career at Murray, was one of the offensive highlights of Mr. Iba's 1938-39 squad. He led the team in scoring with 179 points in 27 games, an average of 6.6 points per contest. He was named first-team All-Missouri Valley Conference and a first-team All-American by the Helms Foundation in his first year in an Aggie uniform.

That season, Oklahoma A&M went 18-7 during the regular season and won the Missouri Valley title for the third-straight year. The Aggies defeated Drake in the first round of the NCAA Districts, but fell to Oklahoma in the second round.

His senior season, Renick surpassed his previous year's performance by scoring 224 points in 29 games, an average of 7.7 points per game. He was again named first-team All-MVC, and earned his second All-America accolade from Helms, as well as becoming the first to garner consensus All-America honors (second team) from the NCAA, and is the first Aggie to become a two-time All-American.

The 1939-40 squad lost its first game of the year, a 34-30 heartbreaker to the Kansas Jayhawks, before rattling off 25-consecutive wins. With a 25-1 record, the Aggies traveled to New York to compete in the NIT, losing to Duquesne in the first round, 34-30. OAMC then defeated DePaul a day later.

Oklahoma A&M faced Kansas in the NCAA District, and lost to Kansas, 45-43, in overtime. The Jayhawks went on to finish runner-up to Indiana as the national champion..

Rousey followed Mr. Iba to Oklahoma A&M, and was a fixture on the floor for the Aggies. He finished the 22-game season with 130 points, a team high. At the close of the season, he was named first-team All-Missouri Valley Conference.

His senior season, Rousey again won the team scoring title with 142 points, an average of 6.1 points per contest. He was named first-team All-MVC for the second-straight year, and was named first-team All-American by the Helms Foundation, Oklahoma A&M's first such accolade. Marcus Smart

Smart became the first player in Oklahoma State Cowboy Basketball history to garner All-America honors as a freshman. He became just the third freshman in Big 12 history to be named the conference Player of the Year, joining Kevin Durant of Texas and Kansas State's Michael Beasley.

Smart enjoyed unprecedented success as a rookie, as he was named a first-team All-America by Sporting News, and was a consensus second-team All-American.

He was also named the Big 12 Freshman of the Year as well as an All-Big 12 First-Team selection. Smart led the Cowboys to the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Championship, a site OSU had not seen in two years.

Smart also won two gold medals competing for the United States. During the summer of 2012, he led the Americans to a gold medal at the FIBA Americas championship in Brazil. In the summer of 2013, he led the U.S. to a gold medal at the FIBA U19 World Championships in the Czech Republic.

Smart made national waves when he announced that he would return to OSU for his sophomore season, shunning a lock in the NBA lottery in an attempt to lead his teammates to new heights.

Cowboy All-Americans

While an increasing number of media outlets select All-America teams, the NCAA recognizes consensus All-America teams back to 1905. These teams have drawn from two to six major media sources over the years, and are intended to reflect the opinions of most college basketball experts. Today the four outlets used to select consensus teams are the Associated Press, the National Association of Basketball Coaches, the United States Basketball Writers Association and Sporting News magazine.

In the early years, the MVC used a variety of formats to determine all-conference teams, alternating between coaches votes, media panels and a combination of both. Beginning in the 1950s, the two diveraged. The MVC coaches began choosing their own team (recognized as the official team by the conference office) while the Associated Press continued to publish its own. Both are teams are listed here.

Big Eight (1959-96)

The Associated Press (AP) and United Press International both published annual All-Big Eight teams for many years. The UPI produced its last in the 1990-91 season. The league began releasing its own official team, determined by coaches' ballots, during the 1992-93 campaign.

CADE CUNNINGHAM

Cunningham joined fellow Cowboy guard Isaac Likekele on the USA Basketball U19 National team that captured the gold medal with a perfect 7-0 record at the 2019 FIBA U19 World Cup in Heraklion, Greece. Cunningham, the Naismith High School Player of the Year and the top prep player in the class of 2020, started all seven games and averaged 11.7 points, 4.9 rebounds, 4.7 assists and 1.4 steals. He had 21 points, seven rebounds and seven assists in the gold medal victory over Mali..

ERIC DAILEY JR.

Dailey was part of gold medals squads at the 2022 FIBA U18 Americas and the 2021 3x3 U18 World Cup, winning the slam dunk contest at the latter. The summer before his freshman year he traveled to Hungary as part of the United States' 2023 FIBA U19 World Cup squad. He's also been involved with multiple USA Basketball mini camps over the years and in April 2023 took part in the USA Men's Nike Hoop Summit.

JAWUN EVANS

Evans joined Marcus Smart (2013) and Matt Clark (1979) as Cowboys with FIBA U19 gold medals. He helped the Americans win their sixth U19 world championship, and their first back-to-back titles since winning the first two FIBA tournaments in 1979 and 1983.

A McDonald's and Parade All-American in high school, Evans finished the tournament averaging 2.7 assists and 1.0 steals per game. The USA was +68 points with Evans on the floor during the event's seven games, and his 19 assists were second on the team.

BRANDON GARRISON

Garrison teamed up with his future teammate, Dailey, to win gold with the United States at the 2022 FIBA U18 Americas. He shot 81% from the field in six tournament games and averaged 6 points and 4.3 rebounds.

ISAAC LIKEKELE

Likekele became the fourth Cowboy to win a gold medal at the FIBA U19 World Cup, and represented the 23rd overall gold medal by an OSU representative in international competitions with USA Basketball.

The Cowboy sophomore averaged 8.4 points, 5.9 rebounds, 3.1 assist and 1.7 steals per game over the course of the event. USA Basketball was +88 (+12.6 per game) when Likekele was on the floor.

In the championship game, Likekele scored nine points and grabbed a game-high 10 rebounds to help lift the Americans to a 93-79 win over Mali.

MARCUS SMART

Smart first got involved with USA Basketball in 2012, when he led the U18 National Team to a gold medal at the FIBA Americas U18 Championship in Brazil. At that event he started all five games while averaging 7.4 points, 4.0 assists, 3.6 steals and 3.4 rebounds.

In 2013, he returned to lead the U19 National Team to a 9-0 record and a gold medal at the 2013 FIBA Men's U19 World Championship in the Czech Republic. Smart started eight of nine games, and averaged 9.6 points, 2.8 rebounds, 2.4 steals and 2.2 assists.

Later that summer, he was one of two collegiate players to participate in the USA Basketball Men's National Team Training Camp, and he was named to the USA Basketball Select Team in 2014 and 2016.

Mr. Henry Iba

Henry P. Iba

OSU head coach, 1934-70

Written by the late Bill Connors, Tulsa World Sports Editor (Jan. 16, 1993)

This is personal. Mr. Henry Iba was the most principled, modest, loyal, gracious, dignified and considerate man I ever met. It was no contest. Knowing him was the greatest privilege I have experienced in 40 years of reporting on the people who shaped the athletic landscape.

From Tobacco Road to Bloomington, Ind., from Los Angeles to the U.S. Senate, the old lions and the new lions of basketball said much the same thing while he was alive.

Whether Mr. Iba coached them at Oklahoma State or in the Olympics or counseled them at clinics or at his home in retirement, they knew him as John Wooden described him: "Basketball's greatest friend and finest gentleman."

I knew there would come a day when God would say we had enjoyed Mr. Iba long enough and He needed him in another place to install a delay game or improve a defense.

If Mr. Iba could hear the tributes, he would surely say, "Cut that foolishness out." Those are the words he used countless times to erring players and to those who praised him in public.

Mr. Iba never talked about his accomplishments. Never. He did not talk much about the past or how he became known as the high priest of defense. Even in his 23 years of retirement, he was preoccupied with today and his protegés' next games, not his national championships, not the past. He did not seek the spotlight but he could not avoid it; he was too successful, too influential, too innovative, too involved in landmark events.

Mr. Iba was no saint. He was a salty man's man who liked Scotch in moderation and had a wonderful wit that cracked up audiences of cronies on fishing trips or associates on plane flights or players during pregame talks.

He was a tough soul. They did not call him the Iron Duke for nothing. He was the quintessential taskmaster whose passion for discipline had no limit. He could deliver the most searing of tongue lashings during four-hour practices and burn the ears of a referee with whom he disagreed. His booming voice added to his intimidating presence.

But, when a game ended, his game face was put away and the ferocious rival was once again a friend who took legendary opponents like Ray Meyer and Clair Bee to dinner. He was so fair, so supportive, as quick to praise players as he was to reprimand them that he was held with ultimate respect and affection.

There was never a hint of scandal about him in his professional or personal life. Except in the most casual of situations, he always wore a coat and tie in public. His conduct in mixed company was exemplary. His unflagging spirit and concern for others made you feel better for merely being in his presence.

He always ended every telephone conversation by saying, "Thank you for calling." He never seemed to grasp that it was the callers who should have offered thanks.

But Mr. Iba did one awful thing: he succeeded in making us think for the longest time that he was not special. Hence, we expect other coaching giants to walk on the same unsullied pedestal and were disappointed when they did not. That was unfair to them. There was only one Henry P. Iba.

How did he rank as a coach? Coaching giants who competed against him and observed him were as captivated as those with subjective roots to Iba's coaching tree. A favorite assessment of Iba came in a 1991 letter from Duke's Mike Krzyzewski:

"Coach Iba, in my estimation, is the greatest coach in the history of the game of basketball. He epitomizes what a coach must do on and off the court, and the manner in which it should be done. Everything he did and continues to do, from the way he handled people to the way he dressed, was an example of how things should be done on this level."

In a guest column in 1987, Bob Knight said he considered Iba to be among the "four or five coaches who made great innovative contributions to basketball. Mr. Iba did it before there was anyone for him to copy. He was the first to run the motion offense. He was the first to incorporate the 'help' principles of zone defenses with man-to-man defense. He opened up the game for the big man."

U.S. Sen. Bill Bradley, who was a member of the 1964 U.S. Olympic team that Iba coached to a gold medal in Tokyo, said in a letter to the coach:

"... more inspiring and more important to me than the basketball instruction were the hints on how to live a more worthwhile life, which were sprinkled throughout practice sessions, team meetings and casual remarks. Now I understand why men are always proud when they say, 'Mr. Iba was my coach.' So am I."

champions, or the lowliest reserve on one of the losing teams that marred his final years, Iba treated them like sons.

Iba transcended the coaching box. When OSU honored him with a distinguished service award, Mickey Holmes, executive director of the Sugar Bowl who formerly worked in the Big Eight office, captured the essence of the day when he said, "An institution is honoring its institution."

What made Iba so popular with coaches was his devotion to basketball. In retirement, he worked to improve the game, to encourage coaches with integrity to remain in the profession and to help any coach, regardless of philosophy, who sought a better job or advice or encouragement. More than any of the legends of his generation, Iba was perceived as basketball's godfather; the giant to whom giants bowed.

The surest way to increase turnout at a coaching function was to honor Iba. Sponsors of the All-College Tournament in Oklahoma City never attracted more than participating coaches for their promotional golf tournaments until they staged it around a dinner for Iba in 1988. Suddenly, Dean Smith and Bobby Knight flew in.

At a Final Four press conference in 1967, UCLA's Wooden explained why he delayed endorsing a shot clock, even though he favored such legislation. He waited until studies convinced him, Wooden said, "that a shot clock would not hurt Mr. Iba. I would never be a part of anything that hurt Mr. Iba. He is basketball's greatest friend and finest gentleman."

Until failing health grounded him, VIP coaches and obscure coaches flocked to Stillwater to talk shop and brought him to their campuses to critique their teams. They did not go merely to pay their respects.

"I love being around him because he is such a great guy and so much fun," Knight said. "But the main reason I talk basketball with him is that I get so much out of it."

A coach did not need to be a protege or have VIP credentials to enjoy Iba's counsel. Toledo's Larry Gipson had never met Iba when he left high school coaching in Ohio to become an assistant at Tulsa in the mid-80s. Gipson asked and received Iba's permission to come to Stillwater and talk basketball. "He treated me like I was Bobby Knight," Gipson said.

The only thing Iba would not do for coaches who sought his help was — and he told them up front — help them in any competition they might have with OSU.

Oh, how he loved the school whose payroll he graced for 36 years. "Our school," and "our place," he would say of OSU. Anyone who played at OSU, no matter what sport, was in favor with Mr. Iba.

The late Sparky Stallcup, who played for Iba at Maryville (Mo.) and became coach at Missouri, was scolded by Iba when he asked why Iba tried to secure a job for a former player who had lost a job because of unbecoming conduct.

"Why, he went to school at our place," Iba said. The affection Iba felt for OSU and his class were illustrated when he was asked to speak to a group of freshmen during orientation week in 1949. Iba was at the peak of his career. OSU had been '49 runner-up for the national championship that it won in '45 and '46.

Iba did not mention himself or his team or athletics. Instead, he told the freshmen how fortunate they were to attend college, that they should make the most of their opportunities and to remember their parents by writing them at least once a week.

Even an 18-year-old freshman recognized this was more than a Hall of Fame coach.

OTHERS ON IBA

"Of all the shadows that cast over the game of basketball, his was the biggest."
— Bobby Knight

"His teams were always so strong fundamentally. There was no fancy stuff, no tricks. He didn't overcoach. He just taught the basic fundamentals."
— John Wooden

"He was perhaps the greatest coach of all time, and a truly outstanding human being whom I could count on as a friend. Whether he realized it or not, he has touched every coach's philosophy in the game."
— Dean Smith

"Everybody recognized Mr. Iba as a great coach, but what set him aside was the fact he was a great person, a caring person. Even the people he coached against had great warmth for him. Too often in the coaching profession, we don't find that, but I've not met a coach that knew Mr. Iba that didn't have the utmost respect."
— Eddie Sutton

"He was void of ego; just a really nice, nice man. It's really a great loss to humanity, even, he was such a good person."
— Dale Brown

"He was such an overpowering person that I knew the minute I was around him, I wanted to be like him. There was no doubt."
— Jack Hartman

"For many years, he's come and watched practice for three or four days and I always got something out of it because at the end I recall he'd come down here and tell me what he thought about each and every player and I don't recall him ever being wrong."
— Don Haskins

"I didn't play for him, but my coach (Don Haskins) did. He (Haskins) made me start thinking of players as part of a family and he got that from Mr. Iba. I'll never forget Coach Haskins telling me I was in the family tree. Mr. Iba had a large number of members of the family tree."
— Nolan Richardson

"When you compare him to a modern coach today who finds talent that already exists, the difference is Mr. Iba was a true coach, a teacher, a mentor, who taught the fundamentals of the game."
— Bob Kurland

Eddie Sutton

Eddie Sutton

OSU head coach, 1990-2006

When one thinks of consistency, there's no better comparison than the coaching career of Eddie Sutton. The gentleman that spent 16 years returning his alma mater to the pinnacle of excellence was a constant on the college basketball scene for nearly four decades.

In 37 years of coaching at the Division I level, Sutton won 804 games while losing just 328 for a winning percentage of 71 percent. He endured just one losing season, compared to 25 seasons with 20-or-more wins.

Sutton was a four-time National Coach of the Year and eight-time league Coach of the Year. He took his teams to the NCAA Tournament 26 times in 37 years, including 25 times in his last 30 seasons. He coached Final Four teams in three different decades (with Arkansas in 1978 and with Oklahoma State in 1995 and 2004).

Sutton also led Creighton and Kentucky to the national tournament, becoming the first in NCAA history to appear with four different schools.

At Oklahoma State, Sutton took teams to the postseason in 15 of his 16 years, including 13 NCAA Tournament appearances. He won 20 or more games on 13 occasions and no fewer than 17 in every season (no small feat considering the state of the OSU program prior to his arrival).

When Sutton came to Stillwater on April 11, 1990, he inherited a program that had made just one appearance in the NCAA Tournament in 25 years and had only seven winning seasons during that same period.

It didn't take long for Sutton to dramatically impact basketball at his alma mater. In his first season, he guided the Cowboys to a 24-8 record, a Big Eight Conference title and a Sweet 16 NCAA Tournament appearance, where OSU lost in overtime to Temple. The following season, OSU improved to 28-8, finished second in the Big Eight and made a return trip to the Sweet 16, where the Cowboys lost by three to Michigan's much-hyped Fab Five.

A 20-9 record in 1992-93 and a 24-10 mark in 1993-94 both included second-place finishes in the rugged Big Eight Conference and trips to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. OSU advanced to the championship game of the league tournament in 1994 as well.

The 1994-95 season, however, was the high mark for Oklahoma State basketball in 40 years. The Cowboys advanced to the Final Four for the first time since 1951, and Sutton had proven once again that he was one of the best in the history of the game. He was named the National Coach of the Year by Basketball Times magazine, and one nationally prominent coach put it succinctly: "If you are playing Oklahoma State and everything else is even and it comes down to coaching ... you lose."

Sutton recorded another milestone victory during the 1997-98 season, reaching the 600-victory pleateau in OSU's Jan. 24, 1998 win over Texas A&M. He became just the seventh coach in Division I history to reach that mark before the end of his 28th season, joining Denny Crum, Bob Knight, Adolph Rupp, Dean Smith, Jerry Tarkanian and John Wooden.

Sutton also earned Big 12 Coach of the Year honors in 1997-98 after leading the Cowboys back to the NCAA Tournament for the first time in three seasons. It marked the fourth different league in which Sutton had received such an honor (Big 8, SEC, SWC).

A veteran OSU team returned to the Elite Eight in 2000 -- the fifth of Sutton's six career regional finals.

Sutton became just the 14th coach in Division I fers and transformed them into a contender. The Cowboys advanced to the Final Four for the second time under Sutton, tied the program's single-season victories mark (31) and swept the Big 12's regular season and tournament titles. Sutton earned Big 12 Conference Coach of the Year honors in a vote by both the league coaches and the media. It was his eighth such honor, including his third at OSU.

In 2004-05, OSU spent the entire season ranked in the top 10 nationally for the first time since the 1953-54 season. The Cowboys advanced to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament, one of only three teams to have accomplished that feat in both 2004 and 2005. Oklahoma State advanced to the championship game of the league tournament for the sixth time under Sutton, and won the Big 12 Tournament title for the second consecutive year.

Sutton began his career by taking over a Creighton team that had not produced a winning record in three seasons and led them to five consecutive winning marks as well as a 23-7 record in 1974 and a trip to the NCAA Tournament.

Arkansas looked to Sutton for the same kind of revitalization when the Razorbacks named him their head coach before the 1974-75 season. The Hogs had not been to the NCAA Tournament since 1958, but under Sutton's guidance, Arkansas posted 17-9 and 19-9 marks his first two seasons before going on to win at least 21 games and advance to the NCAA Tournament in each of the next nine seasons. He was a two-time National Coach of the Year at Arkansas, in 1976-77 (USBWA) and 1977-78 (AP, UPI).

While at Arkansas, Coach Sutton was a member of the NCAA Basketball Rules Committee from 1980 until 1985. His 1977-78 Arkansas team had a 32-4 record and advanced to the Final Four of the NCAA Tournament.

Sutton left Arkansas in 1985 for Kentucky, where he promptly guided the Wildcats to a 32-4 record in 1985-86, a No. 3 national ranking and a trip to the final eight of the NCAA Tournament.

At Kentucky, Sutton won two Southeastern Conference championships and was the National Coach of the Year (AP, NABC) after the 1985-86 season.

From 1978 to 1988, spanning his tenures at Arkansas and Kentucky, Sutton was a member of the National Association of Basketball Coaches' Board of Directors, serving as president the final year. As NABC president, he was one of 24 members that voted on the Basketball Hall of Fame Honors Committee for induction into the Basketball Hall of Fame.

Sutton's coaching career began at Oklahoma State as he served as the graduate assistant for Mr. Iba during the 1958-59 season. Sutton then took over at Tulsa Central High School from 1959-66 and had a 118-52 record. He went to Southern Idaho Junior College in 1967 and compiled a three-year record of 84-14 as the head coach.

As a player at Oklahoma State from 1956-58, Sutton was part of the 1958 team that advanced to the NCAA Tournament. He played guard and averaged 8.3 points per game and led the Cowboys in free throw percentage as a junior (.843).

Coach Sutton has been inducted into several Halls of Fame, including the Arkansas Sports Hall of Fame (1983), the University of Arkansas Sports Hall of Honor (1995), the Oklahoma Sports Hall of Fame (1996), the Oklahoma State University Hall of Honor (1997), the Kansas Sports Hall of Fame (2009), the Creighton University Hall of Fame and the College of Southern Idaho Hall of Fame.

He graduated from Oklahoma State with a bachelor's degree in 1958 and earned a master's degree from OSU in 1959.

Sutton was born March 12, 1936, in Bucklin, Kan., and attended Bucklin High School..

He married the former Patsy Wright and the couple had three sons: Steve, Sean and Scott; as well as four grandsons and four granddaughters.

Jared is a beloved son, brother and friend who placed others before himself, gave help to those in need, lived passionately and hugged affectionately, loved his family unconditionally. We love you.

On Jan. 27, 2001, just hours after after a road game at Colorado, tragedy struck the OSU basketball family when a plane carrying 10 members of the Cowboy program crashed on a snowy night near Strasburg, Colorado.

At the memorial service, Oklahoma State made a promise to always remember those lost that night. Memorials were erected in Strasburg and in Gallagher-Iba Arena in Stillwater and every year OSU sets aside a day to "Remember The Ten."

Each Jan. 27, Cowboy fans across the country come to Stillwater to place flowers at the memorial and pay their respects. The OSU Library bells toll 10 times, and a moment of silence is observed as the names of those lost is read aloud prior to the Cowboy basketball game.

We will always Remember The Ten.

Remembering Tyrek Coger

In memory of our friend and teammate, Tyrek Coger, who passed away on July 21, 2016. We will never forget.

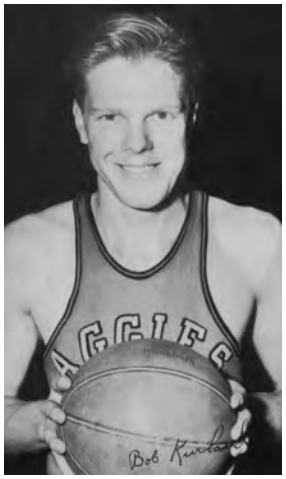
All-Time Roster



NOTE: Players listed began their careers in 1937-38 or later, the first season of official NCAA stats, and appeared in at least one varsity game. Stars indicate varsity letters earned. Standards vary by era and coach. Modern coaches generally award letters to any active player who finishes the season in good standing. Prior to 1972—when freshmen were ineligible and JV/freshman teams were common—lettermen typically had to appear in at least 50% of varsity games. Most pre-1972 varsity careers were capped at three years, however exceptions were occasionally made in war time. Bob Kurland (1942-46) is one notable example.

Historical Note:
The Associated Press (AP) Poll, first published in 1948, and the Coaches Poll, launched by UPI in 1950 and later taken over by USA Today (1991-), have served as the two primary national rankings in college basketball for decades. The AP Poll reflects the opinions of sportswriters and broadcasters, while the Coaches Poll captures the perspective of active coaches, offering two distinct but complementary views of the nation's top teams.

Oklahoma State University

A land-grant institution with more than 35,000 students across a five-campus system, we've graduated more than 290,000 students to serve the state of Oklahoma, the nation and the world.

A bold aspiration

Oklahoma State University intends to become the nation's preeminent land-grant university

From their founding in the 19th century, land-grant universities have carried a distinctly American charge captured in the words of the Morrill Act of 1862:

"to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes in the several pursuits and professions in life."

Through teaching, research and Extension, the Land-Grant institutions steward a timeless responsibility: to raise successive generations of servant-leaders; to engage as vital members of their communities; to bring research and new knowledge to better prepare students for the world they will enter; and to extend critical knowledge and expertise to meet society's most pressing problems — the "grand challenges" facing civilization.

Three Pillars

Instruction
OSU provides the highest quality education in a variety of different majors using the latest teaching methods.

Research

Core Values

Community

Respect
Respect and value all individuals, beliefs and opinions.

Service
Serving others is a noble and worthy endeavor and distinguishing feature of a land-grant institution.

Steward of Resources
Dedicated to the efficient and effective use of resources and sustainability.

Excellence
Seek excellence in all endeavors and commitment to continuous improvement.

Integrity
Commitment to the principles of truth and honesty.

Intellectual Freedom

University President

Dr. Jim Hess

University President
First Year | Northeastern State | Ed.D. from OSU

An educator who puts students first, Dr. Jim Hess brings over four decades of transformative leadership to his role as Oklahoma State University's president. His remarkable journey from small-town Oklahoma to the presidency demonstrates the power of education to change lives.

Born in Henryetta, Oklahoma, Hess earned his bachelor's and master's degrees at Northeastern State University before completing his doctorate at OSU. Hess was named president by the Board of Regents in April 2025 after serving as interim president since February 2025.

Known for his commitment to student experience and innovative approach to education, Hess has consistently led transformational change. At OSU-Tulsa, he doubled enrollment and created the popular Big Orange Bus shuttle service connecting Tulsa and Stillwater campuses. At the OSU Center for Health Sciences, he expanded the OSU Physicians Group tenfold while championing innovative online graduate programs that made OSU-CHS the only institution in Oklahoma's higher education system to achieve consecutive enrollment growth for a decade.

Despite his administrative responsibilities, Hess remained dedicated to teaching, carrying a full graduate course load each semester. His pioneering work establishing new graduate programs — including degrees in Healthcare Administration, Global Health, Medical Sciences and Forensic Sciences — reflects his belief that education should evolve to meet students' changing needs.

One of his most significant achievements came in securing OSU Medical Center as the nation's only osteopathic teaching hospital, creating unprecedented opportunities for medical students. This accomplishment, along with his many others, led to his induction into the Oklahoma Higher Education Hall of Fame in 2023.

Hess brings a unique blend of visionary leadership, financial acumen and authentic connection to students to the presidency. His ability to transform institutions while maintaining their core missions makes him exceptionally qualified to lead OSU's next chapter.

He and his wife, Angela, have two children, John and Bonnie, and four grandchildren: Johnny, Brooklyn, Billie and Bradley.

Athletic Director Chad Weiberg

Chad Weiberg

Athletics Director
Fifth Year | Oklahoma State, 1994

Chad Weiberg assumed the role of Oklahoma State Vice President and Athletic Director in July of 2021 after having spent the previous four years as OSU's Deputy Athletic Director.

The timing of his promotion to athletic director lined up with seismic shifts in national landscape of college sports. Realignment within the Big 12 Conference and the emergence of Name, Image and Likeness both occurred within a month of Weiberg's start date. The transformative House settlement also happened with Weiberg at the helm.

With that as the backdrop, in the modernized world of college athletics, Weiberg's OSU has been a force in competition. A sampling of Oklahoma State's accomplishments during his four years as athletic director:

- Oklahoma State won team national championships in equestrian (2022), men's cross country (2023) and men's golf (2025).
- OSU won 18 Big 12 team conference championships across its 18 varsity sports.
- Oklahoma State finished in the top 30 of the Learfield Directors' Cup standings each year. Its average national finish of 24.0 during Weiberg's tenure leads the Big 12 and represents the second-best four-year run of performance for OSU since the Learfield Directors Cup launched in 1993-94.
- Oklahoma State won the all-sports Phillips 66 Bedlam Series over in-state rival Oklahoma three times and tied the Bedlam Series once.
- The Cowboy Football team beat No. 5 Notre Dame in the 2021 Fiesta Bowl, had a winning record over Oklahoma and twice appeared in the Big 12 Championship Game.
- Oklahoma State produced 178 All-Americans across all sports, the highest four-year total in school history.

Athletic Director Chad Weiberg

As athletic director, Chad Weiberg hired head coaches Jacie Hoyt (women's basketball), Steve Lutz (men's basketball) and David Taylor (wrestling).

OSU's broad-based success reflects how the department has evolved in ways that produce a meaningful advantage. Some of the key initiatives developed within OSU Athletics under Weiberg:

- Implementing revenue share for student-athletes.
- The creation of a name, image and likeness department with a dedicated full-time director and assistant director.
- A partnership between OSU Athletics and the Spears School of Business to create the innovative Brand Squad, which pairs the best and brightest students in OSU's famed Spears School of Business with student-athletes for the purpose of creating a personal brand and managing NIL opportunities, as well as coordinating with supporters establishing new collectives to provide NIL opportunities for OSU student-athletes.
- The creation of the POSSE STAR Fund to provide student-athletes financial rewards for achieving academic success in accordance with the Supreme Court ruling on Alston vs. NCAA.
- The creation of a student-athlete leadership and professional development program with a dedicated full-time director and assistant director to help position student-athletes for success beyond sports.
- Numerous structural and cosmetic upgrades to Boone Pickens Stadium geared toward improving the fan experience.
- Innovative forms of revenue generation that included making Oklahoma State one of the first schools to sell a football field logo sponsorship and to add football field-level suites.
- A partnership with Sport and Story to create OSU's own streaming service, OSU Max.
- Converting Boone Pickens Stadium into a world-class concert venue for The Boys from Oklahoma four-day event in the spring of 2025.

Weiberg has made four head coach hires, successfully recruiting Jacie Hoyt (women's basketball), Steve Lutz (men's basketball) and David Taylor (wrestling) to Stillwater and elevating Annie Young (women's golf) from OSU assistant coach to head coach.

Oklahoma State hosted NCAA Championship events in men's and women's cross country (2022), wrestling (2023) and men's and women's tennis (2024) under Weiberg, providing the Cowboys and Cowgirls with added visibility on the national level.

Also on the national level, Weiberg was on the College Football Playoff Future Format Athletic Directors Focus Group and in September of 2024, he joined the NCAA Division I men's basketball committee for a five-year term.

In 2023-24, he served as chair of the Big 12 Athletic Directors.

Prior to his elevation to athletic director, Weiberg served as OSU's Deputy Athletic Director from 2017-21. In that role, Weiberg was the chief operating officer, second-in-command and responsible for the day-to-day operations of the athletics department. He served as Athletic Director Mike Holder's administrative liaison for football and men's basketball and was responsible for football scheduling.

During his time as Deputy AD, he played a significant role in successfully navigating OSU Athletics through the COVID pandemic. Notably, he developed a partnership with the Oklahoma State University Center for Health Sciences that helped produce the planning and resources to keep Cowboy and Cowgirl student-athletes healthy, safe and ready for competition.

Weiberg was a key figure in several important initiatives that benefited student-athletes and fans alike. A little more than one year after Weiberg's arrival, OSU added a director of counseling and sport psychology position within the athletic department to better serve the mental health of student-athletes.

He also played a key part in improving OSU's gameday experience. Highlights include the addition of one of the largest video boards at a college-only football stadium, the addition of alcohol sales at OSU athletic venues and expanded concession offerings.

Weiberg is a 1994 OSU graduate with a degree in business administration. He earned a master's degree in business administration from OSU in 2002. After earning his undergraduate degree, he served as the director of corporate sales and donor relations for OSU Athletics until 1999. He served as senior director of field operations for the OSU Alumni Association from 1999-2002 before becoming the director of development for the OSU Foundation/College of Business Administration from 2002-03. He held a similar role for OSU Athletics from 2003-04 before moving to Kansas State.

At K-State, Weiberg served the KSU Foundation as Director of Corporate Relations for a year before becoming the Director of Major Gifts for K-State Athletics in 2005. Weiberg assumed the lead role for K-State Athletics' Ahearn Fund in 2009 and, for his team's efforts, was recognized as the National Fundraiser of the Year by the National Association of Athletic Development Directors in 2014. Weiberg was the Senior Associate Athletic Director for Development when he left K-State in 2015 to become Deputy Director of Athletics at Texas Tech University, a role in which he served for two years before returning to his alma mater in 2017.

College athletics have played a key role in Weiberg's life from an early age. His father, Mick, and brother, Brett were both college basketball head coaches and his brother, Jared, played basketball at OSU under Eddie Sutton for a year before moving into the role of team manager. Weiberg's uncle, Kevin, served as Big 12 commissioner.

Weiberg and his wife, Jodi, have two children, Ella and Grant.

Olympic Medalists

Oklahoma State and the Olympic Games

Oklahoma State has produced 129 Olympians all-time, highlighted by 34 medalists - 20 gold, six silver and eight bronze.

OSU has been represented at every Olympic Summer Games in which the United States has competed in since 1924.

Oklahoma State has produced at least one medalist in 19 of the last 20 Olympic Summer Games in which the United States has competed since 1932. The lone exception was in 1972, when the Henry Iba-coached Team USA men's basketball team chose to not accept silver medals following a controversial result against the Soviet Union in the gold medal game.

Included among Oklahoma State's Olympic gold medalists are a quartet of two-time winners - wrestlers Yojiro Uetake and John Smith, men's basketball star Bob Kurland and softball pitching ace Michele Smith.

Our All-Time Greats

The highest honor the Oklahoma State Athletic Department can bestow upon its former student-athletes, coaches and staff is induction into the OSU Athletics Hall of Honor. Inductees are immortalized with a permanent display on the concourse level of Gallagher-Iba Arena, outside the O-Club room on the arena's west side.

- The Learfield Directors' Cup honors institutions and evaluates success in all sports, men's and women's. The Directors' Cup allows athletic departments to measure the success of each sports program evenly and does not weigh the success in one sport above the success in another.
- Because Oklahoma State does not sponsor women's volleyball and does not get credit for its performance in equestrian, it has only 17 sports eligible for Learfield Directors' Cup scoring, while most others count points from 19 sports. Operating with a two-sport handicap, Oklahoma State has still finished in the top 30 nationally the last five years and has finished in the top three of the Big 12 each of the last seven years.

Revenue Share and NIL

College athletics changed forever in the summer of 2025 when for the first time, schools were permitted to directly pay student-athletes.

In this new landscape, Oklahoma State is in a position of strength.

It quickly announced that it will share revenue with student-athletes in its seven ticketed sports. Scholarships were also added. It was a clear statement that whatever the future of college athletics looks like, OSU will be a force competing at the very highest level.

Whatever the future of college athletics looks like, OSU will be a force competing at the very highest level.

The same spirit of innovation and care for student-athletes that helped OSU's name, image and likeness program thrive now drives OSU into the revenue share era.

Cowboy and Cowgirl student-athletes benefit from knowledgeable people within the athletic department dedicated to maximizing available opportunities. Being situated in Stillwater, OSU student-athletes receive additional support from a remarkably passionate and supportive base of generous donors and fans.

Mental Health and Wellness

Oklahoma State student-athletes have access to Dr. Trevor Richardson, who leads a four-person team of trained mental health professionals dedicated to serving the needs of OSU student-athletes. Most schools have just one - if any - mental health professionals on full-time staff.

The team's approach to mental health is built through relationships and providing ongoing support.

"Around here, we like the old proverb of if you give a person a fish, you'll feed them once. If you teach them to fish, you'll feed them for a lifetime." Richardson said. "That's kind of how we approach mental health – we want to equip our people with knowledge and strategies they can use long into the future."

For Richardson, a two-time Oklahoma State graduate who joined the athletic department after more than 10 years on campus as part of OSU Counseling Services, being a mental health resource for OSU student-athletes is not just his profession, it's personal.

There is a misconception that seeking help in the area of mental health is a sign of weakness. Richardson said that is not the case.

"It's a sign of strength to ask for help in mental health because it shows you are secure in yourself," Richardson said. "This is about courage. People who take part in this process show courage and sometimes they view it as a sign of weakness because of what they've been conditioned to think. When you run from something that needs to be addressed, sooner or later it catches up with you. To sit down and take that big, scary, unpleasant thing on and talk with someone about it, that takes real courage."

A Night to Shine

Oklahoma State student-athletes walk the orange carpet at the Cowboy Choice Awards, which has become a highly-anticipated event on the annual calendar, in part because of the awards themselves and in part because it is an opportunity for student-athletes from all sports to come together off the field for a fun and enjoyable evening.

The Big 12 Conference

The Big 12 enters its 30th year as one of the nation's premier conferences in college athletics under the leadership of Commissioner Brett Yormark. In the Heart of it All

Oklahoma State University serves nearly 25,000 students at its Stillwater campus, with 26% of the student body coming from out of state. Students from all 50 states and over 100 countries call Stillwater home.

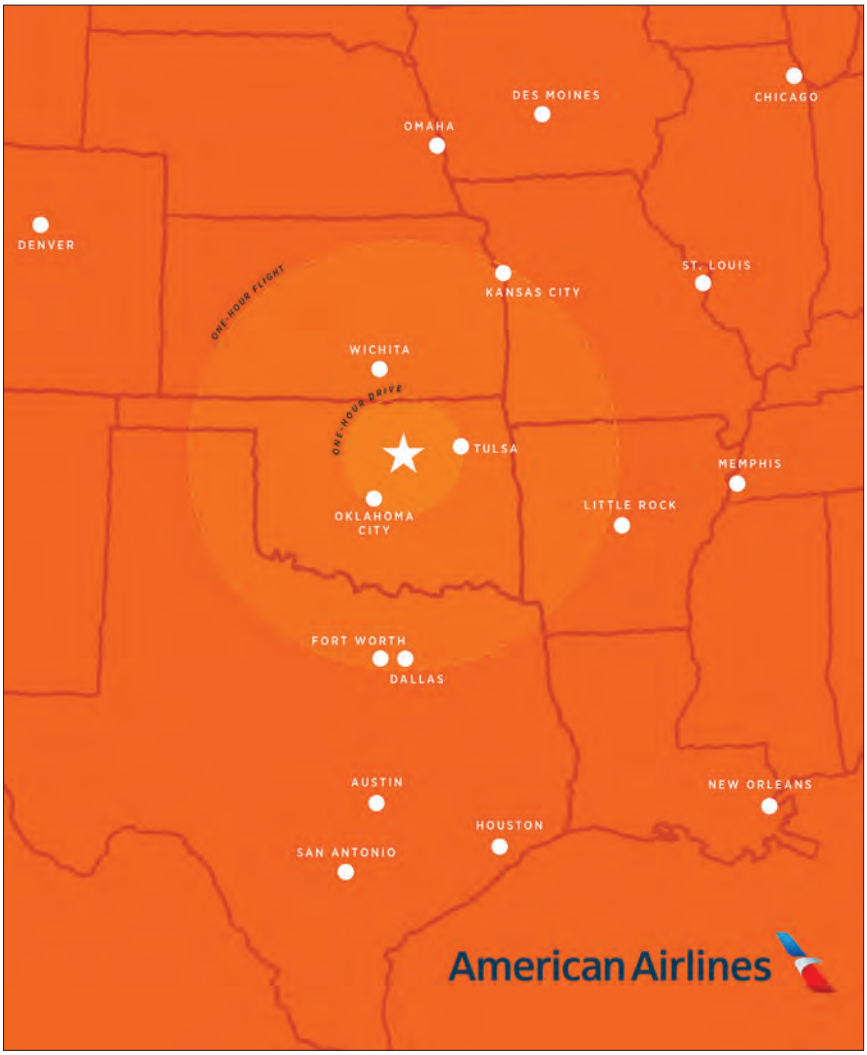
Stillwater is centrally located between Oklahoma City and Tulsa, just an hour's drive away from the two largest metro areas in the state of Oklahoma.

Stillwater Regional Airport provides daily nonstop American Airlines flights to and from Dallas/Fort Worth International Airport. A single one-hour connecting flight to DFW is all that separates OSU from traveling to New York, Los Angeles, London, Tokyo, Sydney and more of the world's greatest destinations.

Additional direct service to and from Stillwater may also be coming.

Stillwater Regional's 7,400-foot main runway can easily accommodate aircraft such as the Boeing 737 and Airbus A320, simplifying team travel for OSU and any opponents making the trip to Cowboy Country.

Further improvements to Stillwater Regional's facilities include a proposed expansion to the airport's terminal that would triple its current size.



Noting Stillwater

The population of Stillwater is about 50,000 and with Oklahoma State University as its heart, it comes as no surprise that approximately 50 percent of Stillwater residents age 25 years or older have a bachelor's degree.

Incredible Fan Support

Oklahoma State has a passionate fanbase that appreciates success across all sports and as a result, OSU enjoys an overwhelming advantage when playing at home.

America's Greatest Homecoming

OSU's very first Homecoming was held as part of the Harvest Carnival in the fall of 1913, but it wasn't until seven years later that the OSU Alumni Association hosted its first official Homecoming celebration. On October 30, 1920, 90 Oklahoma A&M alumni returned to Stillwater for festivities including the Aggie football game plus a dance and a dinner hosted by Alumni Association President Monroe Otey.

Of the 90 alumni in attendance, 50 were from the Stillwater area and 40 were from out of state. It was also in the '20s the now-famous tradition of house decorations began when sororities started to decorate their doorways.

In 1930, the first ever Homecoming Parade, a mile long, made its way down Main Street. More than 17,000 alumni returned to Oklahoma A&M that year to renew old friendships and show their pride in the Orange and Black.

In 1942 and 1944, Homecoming was combined with Dads' and Mothers' days and sponsored by the YMCA, YWCA, Dads' and Mothers' Day Association and the Alumni Association. The combination was a result of World War II and impending gas rationing to occur. Even with the gas rationing and cutbacks on parade floats, decorations and visiting bands, the football game and reunion functions were still well attended.

Following the war in 1946, there was a record attendance of 20,000 alumni and the largest parade was held including more than 50 floats, six bands and other community entries. Over time, the size of the house decorations overtook those of parade floats. In 1966, vehicles were abandoned and onlookers tried a new experiment - they simply "walked around" to view the decorations. Three years later, house decorations began being judged and scored.

New events like the Sign Competition, Football Frenzy and Chili Cook-Off were added in recent decades. Since that time, the event has grown and today is recognized as "America's Greatest Homecoming Celebration," drawing more than 80,000 alumni back to campus each year.

CASE International (Council for Advancement and Support of Education) has recognized OSU's Homecoming as a Seal of Excellence recipient. This is the highest award given by CASE in the field of Alumni Relations. This prestigious award is given only to programs that serve as models for others. OSU was recognized for the widespread participation and outstanding organization of its Homecoming program.

Most recently, the Homecoming celebration has launched onto the world wide web with photo albums, video highlights and live streams of Walkaround and the Sea of Orange Parade.

In 2010, the OSU Alumni Association began fundraising for the $3 million Homecoming and Student Programs Endowment as part of the $1 billion Branding Success campaign. OSU is one of the only schools left in the nation with an event like Walkaround, and once fully funded, the endowment will ensure future generations of Cowboys will be able to experience "America's Greatest Homecoming Celebration" as we know it today.

OSU's Homecoming is presented by the OSU Alumni Association and is planned by the student-driven Homecoming Executive, Steering and Big committees. OSU's Homecoming is a longstanding, exciting and colorful tradition for both campus and community.

The Cowboys

Dating back to the 1890s, Oklahoma A&M sports teams had been referred to as Agriculturists or Aggies, the Farmers, and officially but unpopularly, the Tigers. But by 1924, Charles Saulsberry, sports editor of the Oklahoma City Times, and other writers who regularly covered college events, had begun to refer to Stillwater's teams as the A&M Cowboys. Reporters' constant search of colorful synonyms started sprinkling Cowpokes, Pokes, Waddies, Cowpunchers and Punchers in conversation. "Cowboys" had a Southwestern flavor and flair that fit like a favorite pair of boots.

The Athletic Council authorized athletics director Edward C. Gallagher to have 2,000 balloons printed, "Oklahoma Aggies—Ride 'Em Cowboy" for sale at football games in 1926.

Pistol Pete

(excerpt from text written by Lance Millis)

Around 1923, when Oklahoma A&M College was searching for a new mascot to replace its tiger (copied along with the school's orange and black colors, from university founders who hailed from Princeton), a group of students saw Frank Eaton leading the Armistice Day Parade. He was approached to see if he would be interested in being the model for the new mascot, and he agreed. A likeness was drawn and began to be used on sweatshirts, stickers, etc., and a tradition was born.

That caricature was the basis for what is used today as the official Oklahoma State University mascot. For 35 years, the crusty old cowboy was a living symbol of OSU, representing the colorful past of the area. As such, he would attend OSU athletic events, building dedications, etc., and sign autographs, pose for photographs and reminisce about the Old West with anyone who would listen.

To this day, his likeness is a visible reminder of the Old West to literally millions of people yearly as a symbol of colleges whose mascots pay homage to the cowboy. Each year, OSU students tryout for Pistol Pete. A panel of former "Petes" judge the tryouts and select the two best candidates based on an interview, a mime, and posing as mascot in different "game situations." The two who are selected split the approximately 500 appearances annually. These appearances include all athletic events, pep rallies, business openings, weddings, birthday parties, and public school events.

Frank Eaton - the original Pistol Pete

Frank Eaton - Before Pistol Pete

"My boy, may an old man's curse rest upon you, if you do not try to avenge your father...You must never stop until they are all accounted for!" These words, according to one of Eaton's many stories, were spoken by a family friend following the brutal murder of his father, and guided the formative years of Frank's life.

Born in 1860, in Hartford, Connecticut, Frank moved with his family to Kansas shortly after the close of the Civil War. When Frank was eight years old, his father, a former Union soldier, was shot and killed by a group of lawless former Confederates. Frank was a witness to the murder and each of the murderers' faces was imprinted in his memory.

After being challenged to avenge his father's death by Mose Beaman, (the family friend), Frank set out to learn how to handle guns. Mose gave him a gun and holster, and taught him how to handle and shoot guns. Frank quickly learned to "shoot a snake's head off with either hand". During the next few years, Frank's days were spent helping his mother with chores and practicing shooting. With each passing year, he became faster and more accurate with his guns.

When Frank was 15, he learned of the location of one of his father's killers. After deciding it was almost time to set out on his mission, Frank wanted to make sure his shooting skills were good enough. He decided to visit Fort Gibson, a cavalry fort, to try to learn more about handling a gun. There he competed with the cavalry's best marksmen, beating them each time. After many competitions, the fort's commanding officer, Colonel Copinger gave Frank a marksmanship badge and a new name. From that day forward, Frank would be known as Pistol Pete.

Bullet

The Oklahoma State University Cowboys have many symbols of their western heritage, but none is more appropriate than their mascot, Bullet. The Spirit Rider program debuted in 1984 with the first few Spirit Riders providing their own horse to serve as mascot for the OSU Cowboys.

However, in 1988, Stars Parr Money was donated to the OSU Athletic Department to be used specifically as the mascot. Since that time, Bullet has delighted crowds with his traditional sprint across the football field following every Cowboy touchdown. The heart of the Cowboy Spirit Rider Program, Bullet is not only seen at Boone Pickens Stadium and other OSU football games, he's made appearances at local elementary schools, parades, rodeos and other special events, including the opening ceremonies of the Oklahoma State Special Olympics.

The tradition of the Spirit Rider can be attributed to the late Eddy Finley, who wanted to promote school spirit the "cowboy way," on horseback. Since that time, additional support has come for the Spirit Rider and Bullet, much of it due to Finley's hard work. A horse trailer, custom-tooled saddle and uniform dress for the Spirit Rider and ground crew have been donated to OSU. In honor of the Spirit Rider and its tradition, Jim Hamilton sculpted the Spirit Rider bronze statue that sits just south of the Greenwood Tennis Center.

The Waving Song

Victor Herbert was inadvertently responsible for a deeply entrenched facet of A&M athletic tradition, the waving song. His lyricist was speech instructor H.G. Seldy Seldombridge. In 1908, Seldombridge had gone to Columbia University to scout for a senior class play. While there, he heard In Old New York, the hit song from the operetta The Red Mill. Even New Yorkers were humming the song on city streets, and Seldombridge returned to Oklahoma humming it, too.

Shortly thereafter, he incorporated In Old New York into the closing number of a college follies show being rehearsed in Stillwater's Grand Opera House. But as he studied the stage decorated in orange and black for a campus scene, he realized that New York's praises were out of place for a southwestern college setting.

"Suddenly OAMC flashed to my mind," he explained in 1941. He asked the 30-voice choir to take a break, grabbed a piece of wrapping paper, hummed, and scribbled. In less than ten minutes he had the alternate lyrics that would enliven sports events long after opening night.

For that finale, a letterman representing each sport joined the chorus onstage. The students added their own memorable touch. They swayed and sang "OAMC! OAMC! We'll sing your praise tonight," as they waved to the audience in unison.

It almost raised the roof off the old building, noted Seldombridge, who left the campus in 1910. Exhilarated, the crowd surged to its feet and returned the rhythmic wave. It took two encores before the campus and community gathering was willing to relinquish the emotion of the moment.

"From that night on, you could frequently hear someone whistling the tune," he recalled, touched that OAMC's waving song was remembered as late as 1941.

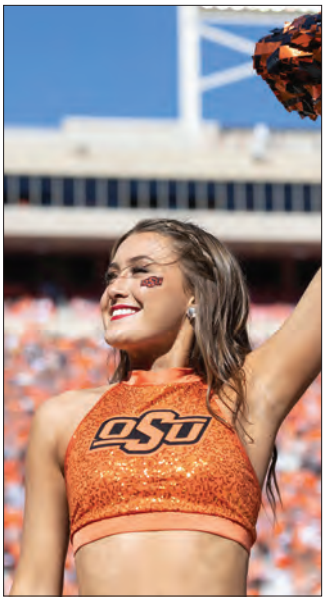
The Waving Song tradition continues to this day with OSU fans rising to their feet and waving one arm in rhythm with the song after scores in football and following victories in other sports. Contrary to popular misconception, this tradition should not be referred to as "Waving the Wheat," which is the name of the two-armed wave adopted by University of Kansas fans.

The Waving Song Lyrics

Oklahoma State! Oklahoma State!
We'll sing your praise tonight;
To let you know where e're we go,
For the Orange and Black we'll fight
We'll sing your worth o'er all the Earth
And shout: Ki Yi! Ki Ye!
In books of fame we'll write your name,
Oklahoma State!

"Ride 'Em Cowboys" Lyrics

Ride, ride, ride, ride,
Ride'em Cowboys,
Right down the field!
Fight! Fight! Fight! Fight!
Fight'em Cowboys, and never yield.!
Ride, ride, ride, ride,
Ride on, Cowboys, to victory;
Cross (opponent)s goal;
Then we'll sing 'O-kla-homa State!'



OSU Alma Mater Hymn

Across several different sports, following victories, OSU teams gather in front of the student section to sing the alma mater. All fans, students and non-students are encouraged to remain in the stands after OSU victories and join the Cowboys for the Alma Mater hymn.
